Private School Girls Here Lead In Matric Exams

(For matric results see Page 8)

Two Victoria private school girls, Anna Maria Attfield, St. Ann's Academy, in the Grade XIII class, and Geraldine Fitzmaurice Dobbin, St. Margaret's School, in the Grade XII class, took top honors for all British Columbia in the senior and junior matriculation results released today by the provincial education department.

Miss Attfield, whose marks averaged 92.5 per cent, will receive a $200 Royal Institution Scholarship, while Miss Dobbin, whose marks averaged 96.8 per cent, will receive a $175 scholarship.

In the examinations written in June, Sally Anne Woods, also of St. Margaret's School, with marks averaging 94.4 per cent, won next highest standing in Greater Victoria School district, entitling her to a $175 scholarship.

Denis William Roand Bailey, North Saanich High School, with marks averaging 88.5 per cent, tied with Ina Anne Treen, Cumberland High School, Cumberland, for first place in the School Districts Nos. 62 and 74. Both receive $175 scholarships.

Top mainland honors in the university entrance examinations went to Margaret Marion Moodie, Magee High School, Vancouver, with 96.0 per cent in the examinations.

Candidates who have failed to pass senior matriculation and university entrance examinations are granted credit for all papers in which they have obtained 50 per cent or more.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTS

Supplemental examinations for both will be held from Aug. 25 to 30 at Victoria College, and in the high schools at Courtenay and Nanaimo.

Victoria-born, Miss Attfield, 18, won the highest honors for the Greater Victoria area in the university entrance examinations conducted last year. She plans to make education her career. She is the daughter of Ernest Attfield, 805 Collinson Street, a St. Joseph's Hospital porter.

Miss Dobbin, 18, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Dobbin, live on South Pender Island, was born in Kenya. She came here with her parents in 1946 and entered St. Margaret's in April of that year. Her school mistresses describe her as an extremely good all-round student and popular in the school, where she was a boarder. She played on the school tennis team.

WENT TO SAME SCHOOL

Miss Woods, 17, is the daughter of Mrs. J. S. Woods, 1005 Pemberton Road, who also attended St. Margaret's as a girl. Miss Woods, who attended St. Margaret's through her school years, was also winner of the Margaret Barton Scholarship which is given by former students of the school to assist in the fees for one year for one girl. Also a good all-round student, Miss Woods was house captain. Both she and Miss Dobbin are planning to go on to university.

Mr. Bailey, 17, was born in Winnipeg. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bailey, 962 Island Road, moved to England 13 years ago and he took most of his schooling there. The family returned to Canada last year and first made their home in Saanich, moving to Oak Bay a month ago. The scholarship winner's ambition is to go to university and become a veterinary surgeon. He is working aboard C.G.S. Estevan for his summer holidays.

Vancouver Shipyard Unions To Strike If Demands Not Met

VANCOUVER (CP)—Shipyard union officials, representing 3,500 men in 18 firms here, are prepared to call strike votes "or take any action they deem fit" if operators turn down their demands for minimum wage boosts of 12½ cents an hour, President William L. White of the Marine Workers' and Boilermakers' Industrial Union (C.C.L.) said today.

Mr. White said negotiating committees had been instructed to accept nothing less than a 12½-cent boost in 16-wooden and two-steel shipyards. Negotiations have been in progress for three weeks. Union officials said the shipbuilding firms offered a six-cent boost for journeymen, and four cents for laborers.

'Pat' Sullivan Facing Counter Assault Charge

MONTREAL (CP)—Judge Gerald Almond today signed a warrant for the arrest of J. A. (Pat) Sullivan, president of the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union, on a charge of "intent to maim."

Joseph Davis, one of three men arrested Monday night for an attack on Sullivan and John Chapman, another C.L.S.U. official.

The warrant was signed while Davis, 51; John Henry, 20, and Frank Dabby, 22, described by police as members of the Canadian Seamen's Union, from whose presidency Sullivan resigned last spring charging it was Communist-controlled, awaited arraignment in recorder's court on assault and damage charges.

The complaint against Sullivan, who formed the C.L.S.U. after quitting the C.S.U., was lodged by Joseph McNeil, a C.S.U. patrolman. A C.S.U. official said a patrolman is a form of organizer.

FACES INJURED

The charges and counter-charges followed a brawl Monday on downtown Notre Dame Street, not far from the waterfront district, during which Sullivan and Chapman suffered facial injuries. There were two fights within a half hour, one inside a cafe where the C.L.S.U. officials were having a beer, and the other outside after they had called for police assistance.

The warrant for Sullivan's arrest charging him with "intent to maim, disfigure or otherwise cause grievous bodily harm to one J. Davis," said that by pulling a trigger he "attempted to discharge a firearm" at Davis.

Danny Daniels, C.S.U. publicity director, said Monday night that Sullivan had shoved a gun into Davis' stomach and pulled the trigger, but that the gun did not go off. Sullivan denied that either he or Chapman pulled a gun and accused one of his assailants of drawing a .45 revolver.

New Boost In Bread, Butter, Milk Prices Foreseen Here

Possibility that bread, butter and milk may advance in price shortly were foreseen in Victoria today.

A jump in the price of bread would depend on the abandoning of the government subsidy on flour and the forecast is, that if the subsidy is removed completely, bread may be 2 or 3 cents higher a loaf.

With the butter market firmer, a price increase of 1 cent on the pound is expected in this commodity.

A milk board is now inquiring into the question of profits of the milk distributors of Victoria on the request of the distributors, who feel that the present price does not allow them a sufficient margin of profit. Spokesman for one distributor said that if milk did go up in price it would not be more than 2 cents on the quart.

"If the government takes off the subsidy on flour, the bread price may go up 2 or 3 cents," J. S. Norrington of Norrington's Bakery said today. "We have heard so much about the subsidy but have nothing definite yet and are awaiting word from our representative in the east."

"They have been talking about taking the subsidies off for the past two years, but if they do, the price will naturally go up. We won't put it up any more than we actually have to."

At the present time, wrapped bread sold over counters and delivered is 9 cents a loaf, while unwrapped bread sold over bakery counters sells at 8 cents. There is some bread sold at 7 cents a loaf and some at 6, which is made in Vancouver, according to reports.

"If the subsidy on flour is taken off the bread, the price will have to go up," said G. F. Waters of McLean's Bakery. "However they have been talking about taking off the subsidy for the past 18 months."

UNIFIED PRICE RISE

He felt that if the price did go up the entire Master Bakers' Association would move together on the question of a unified price rise.

"It would be a corrective move made together," he said.

A. C. Abb Lindsay, Victoria manager of Swift Canadian Co. Ltd., speaking on the butter situation said that in his opinion, there might be a 1-cent boost in the price of butter, per pound.

"I think the butter market is firmer and it is possible there may be a boost," he said.

Average price of butter sold retail today ranges from 55 cents a pound to 58 or 59 cents a pound.

J. S. Hall, Victoria manager of Gainer's Ltd., said he had received no notification on the butter question, but considered it possible there might be a 1-cent increase in the near future. Representative of one milk distributor in Victoria said an inquiry was being conducted by the milk board on the matter of price.

"The margin of profit left for us is not sufficient for us to operate profitably," he said.

Standard milk sells for 13 cents a quart and special, 16 cents a quart, he said.

Dutch Continue All-Out Battle On Indonesian Republicans

BATAVIA, Java (AP)—Dutch amphibious landings in east Java and the first actions on Sumatra were reported today in the growing conflict between forces of the Netherlands and the Indonesian Republic.

The fight, which began Sunday with the Dutch acting first, originated in disagreements over the future government of the East Indies, rich in oil, rubber, sugar, tin and other products.

Dutch troops, mostly United States-trained marines, were said to have captured four East Java points after going ashore from naval vessels in a large-scale operation Monday. They were reported to have established bridgeheads along a 56-mile coastal road between two of those points—Probolinggo and Sitobondo.

First reports from Sumatra said Dutch troops jumped off in local actions Monday at three towns on that big island north-west of Java—Medan in the north, Palembang in the south-east and Padang in the middle—and had completed the Padang operation without casualties.

On Java itself, most populous island of the East Indies, news bulletins and communications from both sides indicated at least seven Dutch operations were under way in what observers interpreted as an attempt to pinch off the republic into isolated segments for a final clean-up.

A Dutch army communiqué this afternoon, while withholding geographical details, said that "all objectives for the first 24 hours were reached and at many points our troops even advanced much farther." The communiqué reported resistance less than expected. It listed Dutch casualties reported.

Monday as 150 dead and wounded.

He said his mission was to reach as many important and responsible people abroad as possible.

U.N. GETS REPORTS

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—The Netherlands government informed the United Nations today that it had been compelled to "resort to police measures" against the Indonesian republic because of continued "acts of violence."

Union Secretary Faces Libel Suit

MONTREAL (CP)—Capt. Norman Reoch, operating manager of Canada Steamship Lines Ltd., said today suit would be brought against George McManus, national secretary of the Canadian Seamen's Union for libel in connection with a claim put forward in Toronto Monday by McManus that during negotiations aimed at settlement of last year's seamen's strike he was offered $100,000 to sign an agreement that would have meant poorer conditions for seamen.

"We definitely are going to take action against McManus," said the C.S.L. official. "His statement is quite untrue, just Communist propaganda."

WOULD ALSO SUE

OTTAWA (CP)—The National War Labor Relations Board has received an application by T. G. McManus, National Secretary of the Canadian Seamen's Union, asking leave to prosecute two steamship company heads under federal labor regulations, an official said today.

The official added the application would be dealt with by the board "in due course" and if it was "in order, the board would take steps to hear the case."

McManus is asking leave to prosecute Capt. Norman Reoch, operating manager of the Canada Steamship Lines, and Capt. R. Scott Miscner, president of the Sarnia and Colonial Steamships.

De Grasse At New York

NEW YORK (AP)—The 23-year-old liner De Grasse arrived today with 667 passengers from Le Havre and Southampton—first reconverted French Line vessel to enter New York Harbor since the war.

Message Hints Little Hope Of Saving Nascope

OTTAWA (CP)—The Arctic supply ship Nascope is aground near Cape Dorset on the southwest corner of Baffin Island and the passengers and crew are safe at the trading post at Cape Dorset, the Resources Department was notified today.

The icebreaker N.E. Maclean, now near Belle Isle Strait, between Newfoundland and Labrador, 1,200 miles away, has been ordered to proceed to Cape Dorset to take the crew and passengers to Churchill as there is said to be no hope of the Nascope being refloated. She will reach the Nascope in four or five days.

The Hudson's Bay Company and the Baffin Trading Company have posts at Cape Dorset. There is a Roman Catholic mission there and a Mounted Police post, so officials here think there will be adequate accommodation for the 50 passengers and crew.

Details of the accident were not known immediately, but the vessel must be largely under water because the terse message said the passengers and crew had lost all their personal belongings, which would not have been the case had they had time to recover them. The message also said provision would have to be made to replace the huge supplies the vessel was carrying for the northern posts.

About 40 posts, including trading posts, R.C.M.P. posts, missions and hospitals, got their supplies of food, clothing and fuel from the Nascope and only four had been supplied before the wreck.

As soon as word was received here, Transport Minister Chevrier instructed the Maclean to proceed to Cape Dorset. The icebreaker may continue the tour, in which case new supplies would be sent to Churchill by rail.

Cape Dorset, within 200 miles of the Arctic circle, has a small radio station maintained by the Hudson's Bay Company, which works with the government station on Nottingham Island, about 100 miles to the south.

HIS SECOND VOYAGE

The Nascope was under the command of Capt. James Waters, making his second trip as master, while the officer in charge of the expedition was James G. Wright, Superintendent of the Eastern Arctic in the Dominion service. Mr. Wright's assistant was Alex Stevenson, who was to devote special attention to matters connected with the payment of family allowances to the Eskimos.

When the Nascope went aground, she was on her 34th voyage into Canada's northland. Even when she left Montreal July 5, officials said it would be the most uncertain trip of her career because of sketchy reports of northern ice conditions.

She was to have returned to Montreal Oct. 6 after an 11,000-mile voyage including 22 ports of call. It was expected she would be retired after her return.

Medical Officers' Visit Awaited

As the country's chief contact with Canada's far-flung northern coasts for many years, the Nascope's task was to minister to the needs of Eskimos, Hudson's Bay Company posts and R.C.M.P. stations, all of whom looked forward anxiously to the vessel's annual visit and plotted their calendars by the patrol route.

Aboard the vessel were medical officers to assist Eskimos and whites alike at the many ports of call, while the R.C.M.P. sent along an inspecting officer and replacements of personnel and supplies for the force's detachments scattered throughout the north.

The Transport Department sent along similar replacements for its weather stations, while the Post Office Department was represented on the trip by an inspector who planned to visit all northern post offices.

Medical facilities were supplied by the Department of Health, represented by Dr. H. W. Lewis.

Wedemeyer Arrives On China Mission

NANKING (AP)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer stepped from a special plane today into a China torn by civil war and plagued by economic crises.

President Truman's "fact-finder," upon whose report likely will depend future U.S. policy toward China and Korea, was greeted by U.S. Ambassador John Leighton Stuart and a number of Chinese government officials. Former Premier T. V. Soong, although not a member of the official reception group, was among the first to shake Wedemeyer's hand.

Wedemeyer will not see Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek until tomorrow morning, when he and Stuart will also make official calls on Premier Chang Chun and Foreign Minister Wang Shih-chieh.

U.S. Reduces Navy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States navy announced today an "immediate reduction" of 1,000 officers because of budget cuts voted by Congress. The move will reduce the number of navy officers from a present strength of 47,000 to 46,000.

of Ottawa, medical superintendent for the eastern Arctic, who was accompanied by Dr. James Cumming, a graduate of the University of Toronto.

Another passenger aboard was Edward Bind, Toronto optometrist, who was to have disembarked at Southampton Island, the Nascope's next port of call, to engage in biological studies.

The R.C.M.P. representative aboard was Inspector W. H. G. Nevin of Halifax, while R. A. Hadden was representing the Post Office Department. Also on the trip was Dr. J. Y. Fortier of the Geological Survey, who was to study coal-bearing deposits on Eclipse Island.

WOMEN PASSENGERS

Only three women, one of them the wife of a ship's officer, made the trip, the smallest number ever to sail.

One of the women, Mrs. Allen Scott of Aberdeen, Scotland, was accompanied by her eight-week-old daughter, Lareen, believed to be the youngest passenger ever to voyage aboard the Nascope. The Scotts were bound for a Hudson's Bay Company post.

In her hold the Nascope carried 1,100 tons of cargo, including several refrigerators for Eskimos.

Ontario Short Of Farm Labor

TORONTO (CP)—Farm labor shortage is serious throughout Ontario, it was revealed today in the weekly crop report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture and in western Ontario's Perth County the situation was described as "worse than at any time during the war."

Lack of prairie farm hands expected to help in haying operations and early harvest brought reports of "disappointment" from provincial agricultural representatives in many sections. York County in central Ontario reported 100 applications for farm help still unfilled.

Under Observation At Ladysmith

NANAIMO (CP)—Dr. H. B. L. Zeman, in charge of provincial mid-island health units, reported today two "suspect" polio cases located at Ladysmith. Nanaimo so far has a clean bill of health.

Feed Grain Subsidy Expected To End; May Affect Meat Prices

OTTAWA (CP)—Continuation of government subsidies being paid on prairie coarse grains fed to eastern livestock is under consideration, but there appears to be some doubt whether they will be retained much beyond their July 31 expiry date.

These are the payments of so much a bushel which the government makes to eastern farmers when they feed western coarse-or feed—grains to their livestock.
Directly linked with the stabilization program, the subsidies come out of the public treasury.

DOUBLE PURPOSE

The purpose of the payments, amounting to 25 cents a bushel
each on barley and wheat and 10 cents on oats, is to keep down the feeding cost to eastern farmers while guaranteeing a good price for feed to the prairie producers. At the same time, they encourage the output of livestock in the face of meat price ceilings which prevent the livestock producers from boosting their prices.

The system of payment is that the government reimburses the farmer by an amount of a bushel, depending upon the type of grain fed, for every bushel purchased in the east for livestock feeding.

While the wheat subsidy has been in existence for some time, the payments on barley and oats were instituted four months ago when the producers' ceilings on these feeders were increased as a means of encouraging greater feed production in the prairies.
They are due, however, to terminate at the end of this month.

With the expiry date approaching, prairie members asked in the Commons last week whether the government was considering continuing the payments in view of the extreme shortage of feed.

ABBOTT'S STATEMENT

Caught without a prepared answer, cabinet minister looked at cabinet minister and Finance Minister Abbott rose to give this brief, non-committal reply:

"The government is considering the matter. I seldom venture into the field of prophecy, but it is unlikely that the subsidies will be continued for any stated period of time."

While this statement lent little encouragement to the livestock feeder, fearful of being caught between a high feeding cost and a low price ceiling for meat, observers thought it unlikely he would be left without compensation should the subsidies disappear and that the government would allow another meat price increase to make up the difference.

Experiments With Paralyzed Veterans To Aid Civilians

Success of "guinea pig" experiments on disabled veterans has shown it is economically sound to take proper care of all paralytics. George S. Mahon, district supervisor of the Casualty Rehabilitation Branch of the Department of Veterans' Affairs, told the Gyró Club Monday.

"Until a few years ago, there was no prescribed treatment for the paralyzed. Members of the medical profession had definite ideas about treatment but had nothing to show. New techniques were a gamble—a gamble which only the veteran would take," Mr. Mahon said.

In the majority of cases, the new techniques put the men back into civilian life as useful citizens. Fifty per cent of the paralytic veterans now are out of hospital and settled, and 25 per cent will be out soon, the speaker stated.

"For every veteran paralytic there are about five civilians who are suffering from one form or other of paralysis. Many of these civilians are receiving no care whatsoever."

Mr. Mahon suggested that a foundation, organized along the same lines as the Canadian Institute for the Blind, be established to see that proper care is given to paralyzed persons and to find suitable work for them
when they have recovered.

The speaker outlined various steps in the treatment of the veteran: Medical care, strenuous
exercises to build up well parts of the body, and psychological treatment to keep up the patient's moral.

Mr. Mahon explained many devices which could be used in a home to add to the comfort of paralytics. He noted ramps could be installed in place of stairs, doors could be extra wide
and bathroom fixtures could be specially arranged.

City Council Monday approved
sale of four parcels of land to veterans, for $592.50, and sale
of 10 parcels of land to civilians for $8,070.

69 City Employees Own Property Here; 102 Get Wage Boost

The detailed listing of each of the 126 City Hall employees according to age, marital status, dependents, length of service, present salary and salary under the new schedule revealed that only 69 of the group are property owners within the city. The remaining 57 do not own city property. Ald. W. L. Morgan, who requested the information, requested the information, requested out to Monday's City Council meeting.

No employee, under the new schedule suffered a wage reduction, but 24 of them received no increase. The remaining 102 were given increases, which it was estimated would cost the city an additional $30,000 this year. The increase ranged from as much as $58.50 and $57.50 a month in the case of several of the high executive officers in the city's employ, to as little as $1 a month in the case of a number of the employees listed in "special fields" such as draughtsmen and public health nurses.

Large families are not the order of the day in the case of city workers. No employee is listed as having more than three children, and only four have this many. The majority are listed as having no children.

Ten of the present staff have been with the city for more than 30 years, and one has been a city employee for 43 years.

Purchase of a $285 machine to count and wrap nickels and pennies from the parking meters was authorized by the City Council.

Mr. Mahon suggested that a foundation, organized along the same lines as the Canadian Institute for the Blind, be established to see that proper care is given to paralyzed persons and
to find suitable work for them
when they have recovered.

The speaker outlined various
steps in the treatment of the veteran: Medical care, strenuous
exercises to build up well parts
of the body, and psychological
treatment to keep up the patient's moral.

Mr. Mahon explained many devices which could be used in a home to add to the comfort of paralytics. He noted ramps
could be installed in place of stairs, doors could be extra wide
and bathroom fixtures could be specially arranged.

City Council Monday approved
sale of four parcels of land to veterans, for $592.50, and sale
of 10 parcels of land to civilians
for $8,070.

The appointment of J. Pembroke and W. E. Bickley as Assistant General Managers, and G. G. W. Goodwin as Manager of Montreal Branch, who also continues as Supervisor of Staff, was recently announced by Ross Clarkson, Vice-President and General Manager of The Royal Trust Company. Mr. Pembroke, formerly Supervisor of Investments, and Assistant Deputy Minister of National Defence during the war, will be in charge of Personal business and Mr. Bickley will supervise the Corporate business of the Company.

Premier In Trouble But Was 'Well Out'

Premier John Hart of British Columbia quipped, "Well, I'm in trouble again," as his ball rolled into a bunker on the first fairway of Jasper Park Lodge golf course. He blasted out on his first shot to within 10 feet of the pin, a good 75 yards away. Shown watching him are, left to right: William Brinkworth, the course's greenkeeper; Stanley Thompson of Toronto, golf architect, who designed the Jasper layout; and Jack Starky, Edmonton, former holder of the Jasper Totem Pole trophy, emblematic of the championship of Totem Pole Golf Week, which attracts golfers from all over the continent during the first week in September each year. Premier Hart has also enjoyed trout fishing at Jasper.

Family Food Budget In 1947 Above Level Seven Years Ago

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian housewife may be cutting drastically on food expenses, out-a survey in Ottawa shows she's still running above the money she needed seven years ago to keep her family in good health.

"Food for Health," a booklet issued in 1940 by the Canadian Medical Association "to help you protect the life of your family," found at that time $8.95 weekly for food was the minimum required by a family of five (two adults and three children aged four to 13 years).

However, a mid-July survey
by a Canadian Press shopper showed that in Ottawa, search as she may for the most inexpensive foods, the housewife, with the same size family, can't get along under $12.15.

What's more, she's up against a second problem—several of the items listed by the C.M.A. are
"in short supply" or "unavailable."

REST ADVICE

"The world's best authorities agree you should eat every day
the necessary amounts of the "protective" foods and after that eat whatever suits your appetite," says the C.M.A. booklet.

The "protective" foods: Milk and milk products, potatoes and other vegetables, whole grain breads and cereals, raw fruits and canned tomatoes, eggs, meat and fish.

Keeping all this in mind, the housewife scans the week ahead, finds the first major role in her 1947 pocketbook is made by "milk and milk products."

Her family needs 18 quarts of milk, 1½ pounds of cheese, three pounds of butter, says the C.M.A.
In 1940 this cost $3.40, but today it can't be had for less than $4.75.

Potatoes—17 pounds of them—
19 pounds of fresh vegetables, 1½ pounds of dried vegetables, eight pounds of fresh fruit, two pounds of dried fruit—these quantities would have come to $2.05 seven years ago. But this year they cost $3.15.

Mid-July, when the survey was taken, was the in-between season.
Most of the fresh imported vegetables and fruits were high-priced. The home-grown varieties had not yet come into the stores.
Nor was there much in the way of dried vegetables and dried fruit. The housewife managed to fill her family chiefly on such vegetables as potatoes (old), cabbage, onions and carrots.

And as for the "protective food"—raw fruit and canned tomatoes—she found that small oranges were about the only fruit she could reasonably buy without going over her minimum budget. Canned tomatoes were practically impossible to find.

Five pounds of meat or fish, and 1½ dozen eggs, which seven years ago would have cost $1.35 were necessary for a week of meals.

NO FISH THERE

But mother skipped the fish entirely in Ottawa. With such things as salmon at 49 cents a pound and haddock fillets at 59 cents, she figured she could get more for her money by sticking to meat. She kept her family going on hamburger steak and brisket of beef, and along with eggs at 45 cents a dozen, managed to keep this portion of her food bill down to $2.03.

There was sufficient bread for everyone—12 loaves weekly. Her bill for bread and six pounds of flour and cereals, came to $1.40. She found prices for this group approximately the same as in 1940.

Such things as shortening, sugar, tea, coffee, spices, salt and pepper were listed by the C.M.A.
at 75 cents weekly. Through dint of going without some of these "extras"—several of which she couldn't find in the stores anyway—mother skidded by under the 75-cent line, keeping her bill to $12.15, (at least more than $3 above the 1940 minimum).

Victoria Magicians Leave For Seattle

Several Victoria magicians left today to attend the 12th annual Pacific Coast Association of Magicians' convention being held this week in Seattle.

Between 500 and 600 professional and amateur magicians representing 33 clubs on the Pacific coast will be there.

Attending from Victoria are William Harkness, well known as the Canadian Houdini, who will perform escapes and blindfold drives at the state capital in Olympia and Seattle; Ernie Crockford and Carl Hemon. The magicians are accompanied by their wives.

Inquest Thursday Into Violent Death Of Victoria Boy

Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, yesterday ordered an inquest to be held Thursday morning at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlor at 10 to inquire into the circumstances of the death of Luke Harold Nelson, 17-year-old Victoria High School student, who was found in the blood-smeared bedroom of his home at 212 Wilson Street, Victoria West, last Saturday morning, with his throat slashed.

In the meantime, Royal Jubilee Hospital reported as fair the condition of the dead boy's father, Axel Harold Nelson, hospitalized for severe injuries to the head, including a fractured skull, and injuries to both hands and wrists. There is little change in his condition from the time he first entered hospital.

When city police arrived on the scene shortly after 6.30 Saturday morning in response to the father's appeal for police through a neighbor, Mrs. A. M.
Roberts, they found the youth dead with a slashed throat in a large pool of his own blood in the bedroom. Under his head was a carving knife with an eight-inch blade. On a chair in the dining-room was a two-inch claw-hammer with blood smears on it. The bedroom bore evidence of having been the scene of a struggle.

The father, his face covered with blood from the head wounds, including six distinct gashes, managed to stagger from his own home to Mrs. Roberts' dwelling to put in the appeal for the police.

The turkey industry on Van-

Christmas needs, say officials of the Vancouver Island Turkey Im-

Thousands Of Germans Seeking To Leave Russian Occupied Zone

BERLIN (AP)—While the countries of Europe are lining up either under the Marshall plan or Molotov plan, tens of thousands of Germans caught on the Molotov side of the fence are today choosing for the west and attempting to risk an illegal flight from the Russian zone to the United States sector, according to official information.

This exodus from the east is progressing despite incessant propaganda in the Russian-controlled section of the German press, which seeks to represent the combined British-U.S. zones of western Germany as a "hunger paradise" and a "colony for Wall Street capitalists."

U.S. and British protestations that their zones, jammed with 40,000,000 Germans, can hold no more are proving unavailing, especially after the Russian walk-out on the Paris economic conference apparently split Europe and Germany down the middle, economically and ideologically.

The exodus of Germans from the Russian zone, which hit a peak of 67,000 last July and then slumped during the winter, revived this spring. During April U.S. zone border police turned back 41,879 persons who attempted to enter the zone illegally, and in addition apprehended another 2,818 persons after they had slipped past border controls.

Germans living in the Russian zone have told touring U.S. correspondents that "even if we should have to do with fewer calories per day we would have spiritual freedom under the Americans and British."

British Exports Still Going Up

LONDON (AP)—Britain made some progress last month in her battle to balance imports and exports as foreign trade reached highest levels since the war in money values, the Board of Trade reported Monday.

The export volume figure for June was 107 per cent of 1938, an improvement over the 104 per cent for May but still far short of the government's goal of 140 per cent of 1938 by the end of this year.

Imports totaled $615,200,000, retained imports $598,800,000, highest, respectively, since June and July of 1920.

Exports were $372,400,000, highest for any month since the war.

Value of retained imports of raw materials at $174,800,000, increased by $14,400,000 over May, to the highest point since December, 1920.

Halt Fish Imports

LONDON (Reuters)—The Ministry of Food has canceled the open general license for the import of canned fish from the United States, on which Britain spent more than $9,000,000 in the first six months of this year. Food Minister Strachey said in the Commons Monday.

Hail Kills Turkeys

CARDSTON, Alta. (CP)—One thousand turkeys were killed on the farm of E. J. Wood of Glenwood during a week-end hail storm which caused heavy damage to crops and gardens, and smashed windows of houses and automobiles. Farmers reported crop losses ranging from 10 to 100 per cent.

The ship's bell from the decommissioned corvette H.M.C.S. Nanaimo is shown being presented to Mayor George Muir of Nanaimo by Commodore J. C. I. Edwards, C.B.E., R.C.N., commanding officer, H.M.C.S. Naden. The ceremony took place Saturday aboard H.M.C.S. Antigonish in Nanaimo Harbor at the scene of the conclusion of the international cruiser race. The corvette Nanaimo in wartime was one of the first ships of her class to battle German U-boats on the North Atlantic. She was present at the first meeting of Churchill and Roosevelt. H.M.C.S. Nanaimo returned to the west coast in 1944 and was sold through War Assets a year ago.

India Union To Have Elected President

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—The future Union of India will have a federal constitution with an elected president at its head, says the report of the Indian Union Constitution Committee, introduced Monday in the Constituent Assembly by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, who will be minister for external affairs in the new government.

The president will be known as the Rashtrapati (Head of the Nation), will hold office for five years and will be eligible for re-election once. He will be in supreme command of defence forces of the federation.

The report said the federal legislature shall consist of two houses, a Council of State of about 200 members and a House of the People of between 300 and 400.

Howe To Visit London To Approve Engagement

LONDON (CP)—Reconstruction Minister Howe will leave Ottawa July 25 for London, it was learned here today. Representing Canada, he will attend a Commonwealth Council of State at Buckingham Palace to give formal sanction to Princess Elizabeth's engagement to Lieut. Philip Mountbatten.

C.C.L. Prepares To Clean House Of Communists

OTTAWA (CP)—A showdown with Communists within its ranks has been declared by the Canadian Congress of Labor.

Suggesting that Reds within the union have been playing ball with the allegedly Communist-dominated United Textile Workers of America (A.F.L.), the congress declared Monday night it was demanding "an immediate stop to this disloyalty."

This disclosure came about three months after J. A. (Pat) Sullivan, secretary-treasurer of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, had resigned that job and his presidency of the Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) on the ground the C.S.U. was dominated by Reds.

The Sullivan resignation and its concurrent disclosures of Communism within Canadian labor ranks was labor's biggest bombshell in years, but the C.C.L. announcement runs second to it.

READY FOR ACTION

While the congress announcement was couched in guarded terms, it gave confirmation to reports current for some months that the C.C.L. was out to clean its house of Communists.

It started off by declaring that "collusion between unions under Communist domination" in the A.F.L. and the C.I.O. had been dealt a "devastating blow" by President Phil Murray of the C.I.O. in a letter to C.C.L. secretary-treasurer Pat Conroy.

This letter insisted that "certain C.I.O. unions in Canada cease supporting the United Textile Workers of America (A.F.L.), allegedly under Communist domination," and urged support of the Textile Workers' Union of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.).

From San Baron, Canadian director of the Textile Workers' Union of America, came a concurrent statement Monday night that the congress declaration "constitutes a major debacle for the Communist forces of Canada who have been manipulating unions under their control both in the C.I.O. and the A.F.L."

This "manipulation," said Baron, was being done "to the detriment of progressive democratic unions in both organizations and to the cause of honest unity."

DISCIPLINARY MOVES

Congress unions which have been supporting a Communist-dominated organization will be disciplined, it was made clear.

"If the present disloyalty of the unions in question continues," said the congress statement, "congress will most likely be giving consideration to appropriate resorts against such unions under Communist domination."

The congress move came as the result of "open support" given to the reputedly Red-dominated A.F.L. textile union in this country by a number of unions in Canada, also allegedly under Communist domination, against the Textile Workers' Union of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.)—a trade union known to be in opposition to totalitarian practices in the trade union movement and regarded as the strongest textile union on the North American continent.

Great Prosperity Here But U.S. Threatened By Inflation—Truman

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said today the United States has surged to a pinnacle of "unprecedented prosperity," but must strengthen its defenses against inflation.

In a special mid-year economic report to Congress, he declared production now is running at a rate of $225,000,000,000 a year, far surpassing anything in history, and added:

"We can place the high production and the high employment that we have today on a firm foundation of enduring prosperity and peace."

But threaded through the 30,000-word document were four C's—corn, coal, construction and commerce overseas—named by Mr. Truman as developments which mean that "inflationary problems may become stronger."

Terming price reductions still necessary in many areas, the President said they must not be swamped in a wave of speculation caused by the forecast of a short corn crop or by a wave of new wage and price boosts pegged by John L. Lewis' coal contract settlement.

Mr. Truman said there are as yet "no grounds for real alarm nor for general speculative increases in food prices" arising from the forecast of a corn harvest 20 per cent below last year's. But in the event real shortages should develop, the report recommended:

1. Full publicity as to the true farm outlook, perhaps including a campaign for "strict economy" in the use of some foods.

2. Quick planning for conservation, through export controls and possibly by renewing the government's recently lapsed power to control the amount of grain used by distillers and other processors.

Mr. Truman renewed his plea of 10 days ago that coal, steel and other industries forego immediate price increases until they test the real costs of the wage boost won by Lewis' miners.

Native Uprising In Madagascar

PARIS (AP)—Dispatches from Tananarive, capital of Madagascar, said today that heavy French reinforcements had arrived at the island in preparation for a drive to quell a native uprising which has been brewing since spring.

French planes were reported systematically dropping pamphlets on rebel-held districts, urging the population to stop fighting or "the most powerful means" would be employed to establish order.

$15,000 Offered

VANCOUVER (CP)—The four-year-old gelding Fort Garry of Frank Kilroy's K and K Stable, now a hot favorite at the Lansdowne Park race meet, may be sold.

Kilroy was reported today to have an offer of $15,000 from an American buyer following Fort Garry's win of the Michael Wilkinson handicap at Lansdowne Saturday.

"I don't know whether I'll sell or not," Kilroy said. "I may have something to say later."

Shift For Gen. Pope

OTTAWA (CP)—Lieut. Gen. Maurice Pope, head of the Canadian military mission in Berlin, has gone on leave pending retirement from the Canadian army. It was learned here today. It is understood he may be re-employed following his retirement by the External Affairs Department, continuing to hold his position as Canadian representative in Berlin.

Police Guard Buses When Drivers Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Buses in the populous borough of Queens moved under police guard today after 500 union drivers for two companies had voted almost unanimously to continue their strike over wages that began Saturday.

Police said 300 strikers attempted to block the movement of the first 37 buses from a terminal of the Green Bus Lines Inc., with a picket line, but dispersed when protective police arrived. By mid-morning 53 of a normal 120 buses were in operation, the line said.

OUT OF THIS... A PAPER BAG

To you, it's just a paper bag, the bag you carried the groceries in! . . . but behind it all is the story of one of Canada's leading industries—paper manufacturing. This is the industry that is first in total wages paid, first in export value in Canada. From the whirling machines in paper mills across Canada flow more than five-and-a-half million tons of paper each year. British Columbia is the home of the largest pulp and paper mill in the world, one of the major industries on which Canada depends for her extensive manufacturing and export trade.

Supplying chemicals and raw materials, Shanahan's is privileged to participate in this important industry. The progress and development of this industry helped to inspire the growth of Shanahan's—four-fold since 1939.

CONSTRUCTIVE SUGGESTION

PENDING CLARIFICATION OF THE
Issues in Java, few will venture judgment on the actions of either faction engaged in the fighting. All will agree, however, that it is vitally important to put an end to the warfare which has sprung up in order to preserve the element of reason in the settlement which eventually must be made. While men are being killed on each side, the chances of reconciliation become ever more remote. Certainly this tarnishes the bright hopes entertained nine months ago when the master plan for a union between the politically independent United States of Indonesia and The Netherlands under the Royal House of Orange appeared near accomplishment.

It has been suggested that the troubles in Batavia be turned over to the United Nations Security Council for settlement. If this agency were given full authority, and could terminate the shooting war, conditions would be more favorable for the ultimate solution of continuing problems now causing unrest. Only bitterness and further distrust can grow from hostilities now in progress.

CHURCHMAN SPEAKS OUT

ONE OF THE STATEMENTS MADE BY
Mr. James G. Endicott, who arrived back in Toronto during the week-end from China, will give many Canadians cause for pause. In his capacity as a professor at West China University, this Torontonian should have a good deal of information in his possession entitling him to express fairly authoritative views on the political conditions in China as he has been able to study them.

According to Mr. Endicott, the end of the present year will witness the termination of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's role as virtual dictator of the Republic of China. The reason given for this prediction is that the present Nationalist regime "is becoming increasingly dictatorial, oppressive and rotten," and because the administration in charge at Nanking is "using political power simply as an instrument to enable its members to get a stranglehold on the wealth of the country."

During the last year or so readers of Canadian newspapers have been treated in multifarious detail to numerous conflicting concepts of the political and economic condition in China. Some of them have agreed in the main with those of Mr. Endicott—who, by the way, is a missionary of the United Church. Others have differed. What the outside world would like to know, of course, is how far the Generalissimo and his immediate family are associated with those elements in the young Republic reputedly perpetuating the ancient custom of the country known as "squeeze."

Such speculation should not come within the purview of people far removed from the scene. But in view of the manner in which modern science has constricted geography, none the less political manoeuvre, conjecture of this kind is, after all, permissible.

AN INTERNAL SQUABBLE

IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE SEVERE
trouncing which the Progressive Conservative aspirant received at the hands of the Liberal and Co-operative Commonwealth Federation candidates in the Halifax by-election last week, the national president of the Progressive Conservative party issued a statement refuting what he called the "ill-founded rumors" of "discontent" in the organization which supports Mr. Bracken.

The official in question, Mr. J. M. Macdonell, Progressive-Conservative member of the House of Commons for Muskoka, had every right to try to explain conditions within the rank and file of the party over which he presides. But when he assumed the job of telling the Canadian people why the electors of the important two-member riding of Halifax gave the government's nominee a greater number of votes than in the general election of 1945, and why the Progressive-Conservative candidate ended up in third place, it would conceivably have been better had he said the candidate on whom Mr. Bracken had set such store had been defeated in the ordinary course of democratic procedure. He did not do that. He immediately rushed into print to say that "there is not one iota of truth" in any suggestion that Mr. Bracken's leadership is under question.

Measure this against the outburst in the columns of the Toronto Globe and Mail, the editorial supporter of the official opposition in the House of Commons. In its complaint over the pathetic showing of the candidate in Halifax, this publication said candidly that the facts "call for a searching of the hearts, and heads, of those who lead the national organization."

Interesting as is the foregoing in its castigation of the party organization headed by Mr. Macdonell, and for which Mr. Bracken must accept responsibility, it raises still higher the veil on a political condition in Eastern Canada with which students of the national scene are familiar. It further emphasizes the fact that the Globe and Mail publisher, Mr. George Mc-

Culloch worships at the same political shrine as Col. George Drew, the Progressive-Conservative Premier of Ontario. We draw attention to this at the moment, not to pitch a high partisan note, but largely because we are accused, among others—who are convinced that in a young country like Canada there is no room for antiquated Toryism—of trying to make political capital out of the result of a by-election.

We do not acknowledge this soft impeachment, nor do we accept the theory that the issue fought out in the important maritime constituency a week ago last Monday had only local significance. Mr. Bracken and his propagandist journals in the early months of the year charged the government with timidity in announcing the date of the contest. It was their boast that Mr. King was afraid of the result.

THE ALLIANCE IS CLEAR

last week-end published an advertisement which included the pictures of Mr. Harold Winch, leader of the C.C.F. Opposition in the Provincial Legislature; Mr. Alex McAuslane, national vice-president of the Canadian Congress of Labor (C.I.O.); and Mr. Nigel Morgan, provincial leader of the Labor-Progressive Party. These three gentlemen had every right to pay their good money to tell the people of British Columbia they were intending to appear on the same platform at a rally in the exhibition garden at Hastings Park in Vancouver last Sunday to "fight Bill-No. 39." It is their privilege, too, to announce that the meeting was held under the auspices of the B.C. Federation of Labor.

In Canada, a nation of the British Commonwealth, which has subscribed to the fundamental principles of the United Nations, the public forum furnishes the atmosphere in which all men and women who feel they have something to contribute to the welfare and the progress of their country may have their say. The only objection that can be taken to this type of public argument arises when those ardent souls who feel they have so much on their chests that they must get it off at the earliest opportunity, advocate the overthrow of government by force. Then they run the risk of being apprehended for their own protection, as well as for the protection of all law-abiding citizens.

The joint appearance of Messrs Winch, McAuslane and Morgan, incidentally, will suggest to the electors of the province that the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, the Canadian Congress of Labor, and the Labor-Progressive Party—all parties avowedly far to the "Left" in national political outlook—have categorically established their identity of purpose.

WANTED: MALE HELP

EDUCATION MINISTER GEORGE M.
Weir has been unable to find any properly qualified person in the whole of Canada who will take on the $10,000-a-year job of telling British Columbians how to drink. It appears that there were no suitable applicants for the position provided for in special legislation at this year's session, and the Minister has been unable to find anyone in the course of a trip to Eastern Canada.

We are not quite sure what is included in the qualifications for an educational director of alcoholic consumption, but there seems to be no small mystery in the lack of applicants for the position. If the $10,000-a-year were being used to lure a Victorian to Toronto to take up such a position there might be some excuse, for the many disadvantages of residing in the Ontario capital—to say nothing of the continual competition the office holder would run into in the course of practising his profession—would make one think twice before applying. But when one considers the salary, the living conditions, the climate and the pleasure of directing the beverage-drinking proclivities of a whole province—we cannot understand how the job can still be vacant.

CANDIDATE FOR BLACKBALL

building up future difficulties for itself by its present policy of mass arrests of persons accused of holding opinions differing from those of the authorities. In a sharp note this week Britain has reminded that country that by her current course of conduct she is already violating the obligations of freedom and liberty which she would have to assume upon being accepted into the United Nations. And, coupled with this, Britain has warned that she will not be able to support Romania's application and "her claim to return to the councils of the civilized and peace-loving nations" if she persists in her conduct.

It was in the second note to go from Whitehall to Bucharest. The first was summarily rejected on the grounds that Romania could not permit her legislative and administrative measures to be dictated by a foreign state. But Romania will find that however this may apply to her program of domestic affairs, there are certain violations of personal freedom which will not be acceptable to the free nations of the world. Under such conditions she will not be welcomed to the conference tables of those who are trying to make a better world. Unfortunately for the stand of the western democracies, the satellite state will be able to point to other members of the United Nations whose own treatment of the human individual violates the "most elementary principles of liberty." It is obvious, however, that Romania, as at present constituted, will have little to offer an organization which is dedicated to the preservation of the Four Freedoms.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

THE REPUBLICAN POT SIMMERS

IN THE COURSE of his gloriously phony "vacation" tour of the ranges where the delegates pasture, Governor Thomas E. Dewey has made considerable progress, without exactly stampeding any large herds of the desirable and useful animals he has been hunting. He is far and away ahead in the contest for the Republican Presidential nomination. Yet it is still worth noting one or two risks he has still to run, before he can build up his own delegate herd to the point of undoubted victory.

First and least important, there are plenty of signs on Capitol Hill today that such Senators as Ken of Missouri, and a good many influential representatives, do not enjoy having the political livestock back home auctioned by others while they are away in the big city. This was of course inevitable, despite the great care that Dewey's staff took to clear his visit to each state with all its absent potentates.

A MUCH MORE SERIOUS threat on the horizon may be discerned in the direction of Tokyo, where General Douglas MacArthur reigns in power that would have been envied by any Mikado in history. The irritation of local potentates, above noted, will naturally assist the stop-Dewey movement which the supporters of Senator Robert A. Taft are now almost openly touting. But the co-operation of MacArthur would give such a move the kind of solidity and substance it now rather markedly lacks. And MacArthur has been saying some rather odd things lately, to visitors who have eagerly reported his words in Washington.

To one such visitor, for example, he indicated considerable sympathy for the Taft candidacy, remarking that Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan ought to have backed Taft in 1940, instead of supporting MacArthur as an alternative. Another earlier visitor returned to the Taft camp from Tokyo with an ostensible message to the effect that MacArthur was for Taft, and that although his own job was in the Far East, he was not averse to helping Taft in any way he could.

THESE reports must of course be given a substantial discount, like all such reports in political matters even when first hand. Yet they have a special interest, if taken in conjunction with the recent behavior of the grand panjandrum of extreme Republican conservatism, Colonel Robert R. McCormick of Chicago. Colonel McCormick and Governor Greene are the joint satraps of Illinois. Until recently, McCormick's newspaper beat its blatant drum for MacArthur for President, first last and always. Meanwhile Greene gave signs of hankering for favorite-son recognition.

Now, however, a less uncompromising note has crept into "The Chicago Tribune" editorial pages. McCormick is now for MacArthur first and Taft second. There is also some reason to believe that the distinguished Governor of Illinois might be tempted to sink his claims to recognition at the convention by the promise of a more substantial reward. The Secretaryship of National Security is said, in fact, to seem decidedly attractive to him.

PUT THESE SCRAPS OF EVIDENCE TOGETHER.

And it begins to seem at least conceivable that MacArthur will return from Tokyo some time during the next year, for a sort of imperial tour of the United States. The imperial tour will be employed as the stimulus for a "spontaneous" MacArthur-for-President movement. A MacArthur delegation will be formed in Illinois. Delegates will be sought in other states where MacArthur has appeal, such as Wisconsin. And these MacArthur delegations, by careful pre-arrangement, will go to Taft on the second ballot, counter-balancing Dewey's inevitable second ballot gain.

It is the kind of political strategem which has not been unheard of in the American past, and has worked before. It needs only MacArthur's co-operation to be tried this time; since it is obvious that the Taft camp would be delighted and that McCormick actually has something of the sort in mind. Whether MacArthur will be in the end co-operative is of course a very open question. And since the American past was very different from the American present, it still remains to be seen whether this sort of stunt can be worked successfully under modern conditions.

THE NATURE OF THE problem is reasonably obvious. If the stunt is tried, McCormick will emerge as a leading Taftite. That will place upon Senator Taft and his followers, however little they deserve it, and however much they desire to avoid it, the mark of standard bearers of the extreme Republican right wing. It will, conversely, place upon Dewey, much more clearly than at present while Dewey is still so wonderfully mum, the mark of standard bearer of the relatively progressive Republicans.

At the same time, it will enormously intensify the struggle that has so long been in progress between the Mid-Western Republican organizations, which have hardly altered since the time of Herbert Hoover, and the West and East Coast Republicans, who have been modernized by repeated defeats. In the old days, all this would merely have contributed to the complex pleasures of politics. But at present, since these struggles must also affect Congressional decisions upon the destiny of the United States, this sort of thing is a trifle alarming.

Sex Education In United States Schools

THE postwar increase in sex crimes, juvenile delinquency and divorce has forced the problem of sex education for adolescents upon communities throughout the country. The issues in this controversy, involving teachers, parents, clergymen and community leaders, are summarized by Harold Isaacs in The Reader's Digest for August. The article is condensed from Newsweek.

While most educators agree that the home is ideally the best place for the sex instruction of children, they also agree that the home "has painfully fallen down on the job." The majority of parents, being products of the "back fence school" of sex education, prove incompetent in orienting their own children.

PRESENT ATTITUDE

In public schools generally, Isaacs says, the extent and kind of sex instruction ranges from none whatever, in about 20 per cent of all schools, to integrated programs starting in the lowest grades and continuing through high school. The latter type of curriculum, existing in less than 5 per cent of all schools, places sex matters "in their proper context" in classes on other subjects. Venereal diseases are studied along with other communicable diseases. Study of the human reproductive system is part of the course in physiology. "Contrary to the fears of the prudish," the author says, "the idea is not to teach the youngsters how to protect themselves from the consequences of promiscuity. Instead, the emphasis is on the values of successful monogamous marriage, the problems of family relations and human relations generally." Neither the American Social Hygiene Association nor the Planned Parenthood Federation knows of any school which includes birth control information in its sex education program.

CHIEF OPPOSITION

The strongest opposition has come from the Catholic Church, the article states. While not condemning sex education in itself, the church regards sex matters "as belonging within the exclusive purview of the home and of spiritual counselors."

An argument made by almost all the opponents of sex teaching, and acknowledged by almost all its proponents, is the lack of teachers qualified to conduct such a program. "Like people in general, teachers are prudish or prurient, biased or bigoted, filled with emotional conflicts." The answer has been a growing attempt to teach the teachers.

A program of parent education is now contemplated by New York City's Board of Education, which does not permit sex education of children in the city's schools.

Dial Your Own Home Movies

JAMES THRASHER

SEVERAL POSSIBILITIES and problems come to mind with E. F. McDonald's proposal of pay-as-you-see home entertainment, which is a sort of Ruml plan for television. Mr. McDonald, president of Zenith Radio, would connect your receiver to the telephone and charge up your entertainment on the phone bill.

This, of course, would do away with sponsored television. Incidentally, it would knock the television end of the huckstering industry right out of existence. You'd pay for your television show as you do for any public entertainment, except that you'd pay for it the first of the next month.

NO COMMERCIALS!

It would be worth money to a lot of people to get away from those brief, uncouth orations on soap chips and liver pills, and the song of the tobacco auctioneer. But that release is not yet at hand.

First, the new idea must get

F.C.C., probably I.C.C. approval. Up to now, radio and television have been licensed according to the quaint notion that the air is free. That doesn't hold with Mr. McDonald's Ruml plan. You get a blurred image free with your television set. But you have to call the telephone operator and get some key frequencies piped in before you can see what's going on. The key frequencies are what you pay for.

MANY PROBLEMS

There is also a federal ruling that you can't attach "foreign devices" to Mr. Bell's invention. But even if these difficulties are ironed out, as they probably can be, it appears that there will be other snarls to unravel.

How will the home audience be charged? It has been suggested that the producer and station could work out the price for each television show. Would they then advertise the price in the newspapers, as theatres do?

And how much television would the public get? Much less than radio, we should guess. Rehearsals would be more elaborate than for broadcasting. Costuming, make-up and lighting would slow up the output. Furthermore, it takes time to look at television. A housewife can listen to the radio all day if she wants to, and still do her work. But if she took time out for a couple of home movies, there might be unprepared dinners and protests from the men folk.

ROOM FOR MORE

Those are some of the obvious unsolved problems. But we don't say that they can't be solved, or that the solution will be disastrous. The player piano was supposed to end private study and performance. The movies were supposed to kill the theatre. Radio, in turn, was going to kill both of these, and such things as the phonograph records and baseball to boot. But they all seem to be going strong. So there's probably room for television.

India On Foodgrain Danger Line

India Information

BOMBAY PROVINCE'S present foodgrain stocks are sufficient only for about seven weeks, according to a press note issued by the Bombay government. These stocks are being depleted at a rapid rate and in order to keep distribution arrangements functioning it will be necessary to have large imports, particularly of rice and wheat, during the balance of July and August.

A report from Madras says that foodgrain procurements in that province are worse than last year. The finance minister stated in an interview that Madras would face a critical period from the middle of August until the end of October.

In order to take stock of the situation, food ministers or premiers of Indian provinces conferred with the food member of the government of India on Sunday, July 13, 1947. A few leading businessmen were also present. During the discussions it was revealed that there is a gap of about 2,000,000 tons of foodgrains between internal procurement, expected imports and the requirements necessary to maintain the country's 12-ounce ration. Some members felt that India was not getting a fair deal in international food allocations. While European countries were given "safe" areas where they could purchase their wheat, India had to fill her needs in uncertain and difficult markets. Tribute was paid to the generous assistance received from the United States last year.

The food member of the government of India has agreed to the appointment of an expert committee to review the official food policy including an increase in production. Another committee has also been appointed to make recommendations for meeting the immediate difficult situation in Bombay and Madras.

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

THERE is no dark mystery about the warfare which has erupted again between the Indonesian republic and the imperial Dutch forces. It's just another of many indications that the day of empires is fading.

To understand the cause of the current crisis we must go back a bit. The revolutionary Indonesian republic has been the de facto government for the major portions of the rich islands of Java and Sumatra since the winter of 1945. Lengthy negotiations between the Dutch and the rebels (heavily punctuated by warfare) finally resulted in an agreement whereby a united states of Indonesia, encompassing both the republic and the remainder of the East Indies, would come into being in 1949.

This new nation was to have dominion status. Holland was to retain a hand in foreign relations, defence, finance and in subjects of an economic or cultural nature. The queen of Holland also was to be queen of the dominion. Disagreement over the method of implementing the new government is credited with precipitating the latest upheaval. However, I think we must go deeper than that. If we could look into the mind of the Indonesian we likely should encounter some such reasoning as this:

"The Dutch and the Indonesians are racially as far apart as the poles. We have little in common. The queen of the Netherlands is a benevolent and lovable personage, but she is not one of us. The members of her government are foreigners to us. We want absolute severance from Holland, so that we may rule ourselves in these fairy lands of wealth which have been inhabited by our race for untold generations. It isn't that we like the Dutch the less, but that we like our absolute freedom the more."

That's what your correspondent believes they think. And that is the basic cause of this fresh outbreak. If we believe the writing on the wall this means that sooner or later (and probably sooner) the Netherlands must relinquish all claims on the wealth of Indonesia.

FIGHTING SPIRIT WANTING

National Health Magazine

Well, in spite of the fact that women have the vote, decisions in industry and politics are still made by men. And one of the great reasons is that, in spite of all of their opportunities, women still fail to fight for themselves. If there are no women in the legislature of either Ontario or Quebec and if there is still only one woman in the Dominion House of Commons, it is largely because women are not awake to their opportunities. One of the results of the failure of women to achieve political representation is the general exploitation of women.

METER WATCHERS

Letter to Picture Post

Do your readers find that in spite of electricity cuts and voluntary economies this past three months, their electricity bills show little or no difference from usual? My wife and I are both out during the day and to help in the continued national emergency we use electricity only for the radio when we are in. Yet the bill is up on the corresponding quarter for last year. The electricity company assures me there's no mistake, and there's no short circuit in the house. But I shall spend next winter underneath the stairs watching the meter by the light of a candle.

MORAL INDIGNATION

Toronto Saturday Night

We are just as indignant as anybody about the refusal of the Soviet government to allow the Russian wives of Canadian citizens to accompany their husbands away from Russia. But we are very, very careful not to rest our indignation on the ground that those whom God hath joined together man should not separate. That would expose us to some ironic Soviet laughter, because Canada has been separating thousands of Chinese whom God hath joined together, and doing it for some 50 years and on a purely racial ground which is explicitly disavowed by the Charter of the United Nations.

And it is no use telling the Russians that the Chinese don't have to stay in Canada, but can rejoin their wives in China; for the Russians can reply that the Canadians don't have to leave Russia and can stay with their wives in that country.

Noted Author On Brief Visit Here

Betty MacDonald, author of "The Egg and I," with her daughters, Joan, on the left, and Anne, on the right, were visitors in Victoria on the week-end, staying at the Old England Guest House, Lampson Street, Esquimalt. Also in the party were her husband, Mr. Donald MacDonald, and her mother, Mrs. D. C. Bard. Betty MacDonald, who gives much of the credit for her writing success to a red-headed sister, Mary, who "hounded" her into writing, has more than a glint of red in her own hair. Her daughter, Anne, also has auburn tresses. "The girls have a definite flair for writing," Betty MacDonald says, "and I'm hoping they will do something about it." Joan is in high school and Anne enters University in the fall.

Author Of Children's Radio Series Here

Completing a week's visit in Victoria is Mrs. K. F. B. Pawley, widely-known as Kathleen Ortmans, who is narrator, script writer, composer and pianist for special broadcasts over CBC entitled "Let's Play," for children between the ages of four and six.

Mrs. Pawley came from England with her husband and young son, James, 18 months ago to make her home in Cloverdale, B.C.

Prior to that time she gave special lectures every week to 1,500 children and made BBC broadcasts to 6,000 schools.

Her broadcasts for children consist of stories about their everyday experiences, arranged for them to act at home. They have a dual purpose, that of entertaining as well as educating children in the arts—with special emphasis on music.

The attractive, dark-haired woman, interested in music since her early childhood, studied at the Royal Academy of Music in London, at the Dalroze School of Eurhythmics, and also at the

Her first teaching assignment was at Cornish School, Seattle, where she taught eurhythmics to music, art, drama and dance students.

She returned to England to teach music and movement to children and students' leaders. Then came her experiments in nursery schools, accepted by the Nursery School Association of Great Britain.

With her first series of children's programs in Canada now well under way, and a definite success, Mrs. Pawley has two new series planned for the fall. These will include programs for nursery schools under the title "Let's Play," and also programs for primary schools which will be known as "It's In The Air."

During her stay in Victoria, Mrs. Pawley has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Aldous, Ten Mile Point.

World Traveler Liked Banff Notice Against Feeding Bears

VANCOUVER (CP)—She has watched lions frisk around her automobile in Africa and dreamed while the sun rose over Mount Everest, but charming, grey-haired Mrs. James MacCrindle names Canada as the location of one of her most amusing memories—watching the tame bears at Banff National Park.

"Why," says the wife of Col. James MacCrindle, "we even saw signs on the mountain, reading: 'Please do not feed candy to the bears.'"

The MacCrindles waited four years in Scotland during the Second World War for passage back to South Africa, finally deciding to fly to Canada to try their luck from here. Mrs. MacCrindle is author of "Ice in Egypt" and other stories which chronicle her adventures with her now-retired husband in all corners of the globe.

Among her most glowing experiences was the opening of Tutankhamen's tomb in Egypt. She and her husband drank from golden goblets at parties given by the King of Egypt.

"Only lemonade, though, she said, 'since the king was a Moslem, whose faith forbids strong liquors.'"

Fate, and the state of world travel will determine whether the MacCrindles' step again into the stream of world travel to foreign lands.

The cloak will be ice blue, interwoven with threads of Australian silver.

It will carry a 'waratah, an Australian bush flower, worked in threads of Australian gold, and on the shoulders will be six gold ornaments in an aboriginal motif

Hugh Tevis who has one of the finest gardens in the Cape Peninsula, Sir Alfred Beit and Lady De Villiers Graaff were among the buyers.

Dorothy Lee Wed In Michel

Of particular interest in Victoria was the ceremony at 2 in the afternoon of July 9, at United Church in Michel, B.C., when marriage vows were exchanged by Dorothy Lynne Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fook, Natal, B.C., and Wah Bong Lew, Bremerton, Wash., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lew Tye, Oakland, Calif.

Well known in Victoria, the bride is a graduate of the Normal School, and has taught in Victoria public schools for the past two years. Mr. Lew received his master of arts degree at University of Michigan in 1939 and since that time has been attached to the United States navy department in Bremerton.

Heavy white brocaded satin topped the full net skirt worn by the bride. A heart-shaped head-dress held her filmy net veil and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. She was given in marriage by her father.

Bridesmaids in pink and blue sheer gowns wore crowns of pink flowers in their hair and carried bouquets of carnations.

Best man was Terry Quan, and ushers were George Lee and Tommy Lee.

The young couple are honeymooning in Oakland, Calif., and will make their home in Bremerton.

British Women Revive Embroidery Patterns

British women are going back to grandma's day for their relaxation these days! They have the embroidery craze! What's more, there's keen competition to make their designs more unusual than their neighbor's!

Some 1,400 examples of good modern needlework have been collected by a "Needlework Development Scheme," which started in Scotland. This collection is being sent all round Britain on loan to art schools, Women's Institutes and other women's organizations, and it's building up a valuable library on embroidery.

Well-known needlewomen are engaged for two years as a team of experts, visiting schools and embroidery groups to encourage better designs.

Britain's home-makers, when they do find time to sit down, after their shopping, housework and cooking are finished, find needlework restful and yet have the feeling that they are achieving something useful and beautiful while they rest.

Mother Was First in Penicillin Research

A mother of three children, the youngest only nine months old, was recently elected a Fellow of the Royal Society of Britain, one of the highest honors a scientist can achieve. She's Mrs. Dorothy Hodgkin who was a pioneer in the discovery of the chemical structure of Penicillin.

Dorothy is one of the world experts in X-rays. She took an accurate picture of the arrangement of the atoms in the penicillin molecule. For a long time her discovery was kept secret because of the wartime security agreement between Britain and the United States, but now it has been made known, and Mrs. Hodgkin has her reward.

This quiet woman in her mid-thirties has had an amazing career. While studying at Cambridge University 13 years ago, she started work on the comparatively new science of X-Ray Crystallography under Professor Bernal, and among the discoveries she made with X-rays, she worked out the structure of insulin. Later, she moved to Oxford where she married Thomas Hodgkin, head of the Workers' Educational Activities in that city.

Besides her intensive research work, and teaching at Somerville College, Oxford, Dorothy Hodgkin runs her own home, and cares for her husband and three children. She is one of the youngest Fellows of the Royal Society, as well as one of the first women to be admitted. The Society was founded in the days of Charles II, but it's only during the past two years that women have been recognized for membership. Dorothy takes her place beside Dr. Kathleen Lonsdale, who is an X-ray expert as well, and also a married woman and mother of two!

Faulty technique of applying make-up to eyes and mouth can age and harden the entire face.

Hobbies Help Teen-Agers Combat Self-Consciousness

PATRICIA TRAVERS: Hobbies help.

Variety is the spice of conversation and the teen-ager who pastes that rule in her hat will never find herself left on the fringes of a party.

No matter how talented a girl may be in music or art, if her talent is her one and only topic of conversation she'll yield the spotlight to the less-gifted girl whose conversation sparkles with her lively enthusiasm for a wide range of activities.

That's the candid opinion of 19-year-old Patricia Travers, who is celebrating her 10th year as a concert violinist and is a shining example of the successful combination of great talent and a well-rounded personality. But Patricia works hard to avoid becoming too intense about herself.

Tallulah Models Dressing Gown With Pearl Necklace

NEW YORK (CP)—The curtain went up on what will be one of the coming dramatic season's big attractions when Tallulah Bankhead gave a one-woman show of monologue and impressions for the fashion press at the Mainbocher salon.

The occasion was the final fitting and inspection of the gowns the dressmaker had designed for the famous star to wear in a revival of Noel Coward's play, "Private Lives."

As Miss Bankhead modelled and posed for photographers it seemed a shame that she is forced in her plays to stick to lines and situations devised by playwrights. Miss Bankhead gives herself, unrehearsed, and giving a free rein to her famous sense of humor, can entrance an audience.

"It isn't the heat, my dear, it's just sheer nerves that took the wave out of my hair," she said. "You see I'm not really used to modelling." Her ash-blond hair looked as sleek as usual. First design in the group of four created for the character, Amanda, was a printed crepe dressing gown in tawny brown, black and white. Cut on princess lines it had a wide square collar heavily embroidered with crystal and brown beads.

"I wear the dressing gown in the play right after I have taken my bath," Miss Bankhead said. Questioned about the six-strand pearl necklace she wore with it, she added briskly, "I often wear pearls in the bathtub." "Bankhead blue," Mainbocher's newest color the shade of the star's eyes, appeared in a crepe dinner dress with malded

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hall, 424 Kipling Street, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Gertrude Mary, to John Whitely Pegg, only son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Pegg, 77 San Sebastian Place. The wedding will take place on Aug. 9, in St. Andrew's Cathedral, at 10.30 a.m.

Dorothy Dix

This is the time of year when everybody gets vacations except wives and mothers. Everyone can see why the tired business-man needs rest and change, and why the girls who have spent weary months pounding type-writers, or checking sales, or appeasing cantankerous customers should have a chance to play around a little and bone up on their dancing.

But nobody thinks that Mother needs a break in her routine when she hasn't done a thing except cook 1,000 meals, besides making sandwiches and putting up snacks for hungry kids, walked about a thousand miles burping the baby, washed, ironed, scrubbed, cleaned and put up with Papa's grouches and the children's noise and, single-handed, kept a family together and the home a going concern.

And if any member of the family does happen to notice that Mother is beginning to look a good deal like the woman who said that she hoped there would be no resurrection because when she died she wanted to lie in the grave a million years and get rested up, and suggests a vacation, it is always cluttered up with many things. Taking the children along, having the baby howl, the smaller children perpetually fed and kept out of all manner of devilment, and the older children prevented from squabbling and fighting, until all that Mother gets out of her vacation is a case of nervous prostration, instead of a rest cure.

SURELY NEEDS VACATION

But, all the same, Mother should have a vacation. It should be a real vacation in which she trusts her house and family to the Lord and the trained nurse whom she puts in her place to pinch-hit for her, and goes away, by herself, to some place where she wants to go, where she will have change, see new scenes, meet new people, and have a mild binge.

It will work a miracle in her. It will restore her youth, smooth out her wrinkles, sweeten her temper, and change her whole point of view. She may have gone away from home dissatisfied with everything in it, but she will come back thinking it a palace. She may have been snappy with her children and regarded them as brats, but two weeks away from them will turn them into little angels to her eyes.

She may have been so tired and had so little appetite herself that she slammed any sort of meal on the table, but she will return loaded down with recipes for toothsome dishes. She may have seen her husband as just a fat, middle-aged man, but he will look like the hero of her girlish dreams when he meets her at the station when she comes home from her vacation.

Preferably husbands and wives should take their vacations separately because, no matter how much they love each other, they get fed up on each other's society. They talk out. But let either one of them go off alone and upon his or her return he or she chatters like a magpie. He or she is full of new stories and experiences and the whole family circle is jazzed up.

Decorated Shades Brighten Room

Giant roses painted on shade at window are repeated on the shade used for dressing table.

You can use tricked-up window shades to add dash or splash to a room as decorators do, and satisfy your artistic urge to paint, draw or paste decals on a functional piece of cotton cambric at the same time.

What's more, the decorated shade that guards privacy at the window can as prettily screen a kitchenette, dressing table, open shelf cabinet or a doorless closet.

Interested in tricks? Let experts of the Window Shade Institute guide your hand.

For any decorating, they say, stretch shade flat on a table top. Unroll it as far as needed for the design. Anchor the folds at each end of the roller with paper clips to keep shade from snapping up while you are working on it.

Autographs on window shades are smart. A child's room is made more fascinating to the young owner if her window shade serves as a party "guest book." Have the small fry attending your child's birthday party "enter" their names with varicolored crayons on a shade stretched flat for the all-over autographing ritual.

Prettily splashed window shades used in a bedroom can be matched, thanks to decorating tricks, with shades that serve other functional purposes in the room. One shade may be used to flip down over a knee hole in a solid-sided dressing table. Another shade may be used to curtain an open closet. Use the same decorative design for all shades. Experts suggest giant roses as motifs to be stenciled and textile-painted on the fabric of each.

If you work with decals—ideal for bordering shades with fruit or flower motifs—use rubber cement for pasting on designs. The cement backing will allow for the flexing of shades that must go up and down.

Knitter's Trick—If you're unraveling an old sweater or scarf, wind wool into skeins (easy if you wind around a 12-inch piece of cardboard). Tie ends securely so skeins won't tangle. Dip them up and down in thick, soapy suds, rinse and hang to dry. Then roll yarn and it's ready for new life.

Modern—A wallpaper border around a window or group of windows takes the place of heavy draperies, adds pattern but not too much. Its especially good when upholstered fabrics are fairly plain.

More Good Westerns Needed For Screen, Actor Declares

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Today's movie producers are making a big mistake, says Ronald Reagan. They aren't making enough good westerns—and he accents the word "good."

The handsome actor and president of the Screen Actor's Guild makes no secret of the fact that he yearns to gallop over movie prairies, but his reasons are more than personal.

"We are making too many 'parlor' stories," he said on the set of "Mary Hagen," which may or may not fall in that classification. "Moviegoers have enough of their own problems today. When they go to see pictures they want some entertainment that will take them out of their own locale and away from their own troubles."

Ronald thinks the western is the answer.

His suggestion: Look into American history, where many unmovied characters with interesting and exciting stories are still hidden.

Reagan is campaigning to escape Warner's temporarily to play "Only the Valiant," a story of the Indian wars, which is owned by the Cagneys. Whether he will be headed off at the crossroads will be told in another chapter.

FOREIGN FEVER

The foreign market is a prime concern of U.S. producers and

VAN JOHNSON AND JUNE ALLYSON, meeting for the first time since they were childhood sweethearts, find the years have only served to deepen their love. It's one of the romantic scenes in "High Barbaree," new M-G-M attraction on the Capitol screen today. The exciting yarn was written by the authors of the memorable "Mutiny on the Bounty."

they must eye colleague Walt Disney with envy. His films have universal appeal and can be readily dubbed into foreign languages. I saw a couple of reels of "Bambi" in the Indian version. Not only did the characters speak Hindustani, but the background music came from native instruments, since Occi-

idental orchestras sound strange to the eastern ear. It is the first time this has been done on an American film and "Bambi" may be the key to the vast India market.

SIGHTS AND SOUND

Betty Garrett monopolizing interest at the beach by wearing a French bathing suit... Jane Russell being fitted for her high-necked costumes in "The Paleface"... Fred MacMurray donning spats and a derby to play a press agent in "Miracle of the Bells"... rubber-necking kids outside M-G-M asking a columnist (not this one): "Are you a movie star?"

PLAZA THEATRE

In "Great Expectations," which has been held over at the Plaza Theatre, an outstanding performance as Pip, the young blacksmith's apprentice whose great expectations come true when he is left a fortune, is given by John Mills, and playing opposite him in the role of the proud and lovely Estella, is Valerie Hobson. Finlay Currie handles the difficult part of Magwitch, the convict who leaves Pip the money he has made in Australia because of a kindness the boy showed him in the past, and Marita Hunt is the rich and eccentric Miss Havisham.

OAK BAY THEATRE

A pillow fight with Robert Donat in "The Young Mr. Pitt" started the acting career of moppet actress Ann Stephens.

The child star is featured with her sister, Helen, in Universal's new release, "They Were Sisters," now playing at the Oak Bay Theatre, with Phyllis Calvert and James Mason heading the large cast.

To prove that casting officials are no respecters of blood relationship—the teen-aged sisters are cast in the film as first cousins.

YORK THEATRE

Orson Welles is director as well as a star of International's "The Stranger," now at the York Theatre. He plays a character of many sides, tailored exactly to an actor of his unquestioned versatility, and yet diametrically opposite in appeal to his tenderly conceived role in International's second widely-acclaimed film, "Tomorrow Is Forever."

ROYAL THEATRE

"The Two Mrs. Carrolls," a Warner Bros. melodrama based on the Marlin Vale stage hit, is the new film now showing at the Royal Theatre. Starring Humphrey Bogart, Barbara Stanwyck and Alexis Smith, the featured players include Nigel Bruce, Isabel Elsom, Pat O'Moore and Ann Carter in important roles.

Oddfellows and Rebekahs will hold a basket picnic on Labor Day at Experimental Farm.

ATLAS THEATRE

Kent Smith, who is starred with Ann Sheridan and Bruce Bennett in "Nora Prentiss," the new Warner Bros. drama at the Atlas Theatre, faces life, interviews and the movie camera with easy grace.

And little wonder, since Smith received years of thorough dramatic training on the Broadway stage opposite Katherine Cornell, Helen Hayes and Jane Cowl.

Anglers Aid Solarium

CAPITOL THEATRE

Claude Jarman Jr., overnight sensation following his academy award role in "The Yearling," now plays Van Johnson as a boy outside M-G-M asking a columnist (not this one): "Are you a movie star?"

now at the Capitol Theatre this week, with June Allyson co-starred. The new role called for young Jarman to do some perilous stunts on a bicycle, including a spectacular leap into the air.

Zane Grey Story On Dominion Screen

Zane Grey's "Western Union" makes a return engagement at the Dominion Theatre, starting today, to thrill local audiences with its stirring adventure, pulse-pounding excitement and colorful drama. Filmed by 20th Century-Fox, the picture features an outstanding cast headed by Robert Young and Randolph Scott, and includes Dean Jagger, Virginia Gilmore, John Carradine and Slim Cummerby.

An epic of Indians, romance and blazing guns, "Western Union" unfolds the story of the fierce battle to build the first transcontinental telegraph over the west. The signal for the huge wagon train to start rolling across the prairie marked the beginning of one of the most colorful and thrilling episodes in the history of the west.

Residents Oppose Pruning Or Removal Of Boulevard Trees

Strong opposition was voiced to Monday's City Council meeting by residents of the Laurel Lane, Regent Place and Maud Street area against the proposal to prune or remove boulevard trees to give better street lighting.

The Society for the Preservation of Native Plants of B.C. had a letter in particular opposing the cutting or removal of arbutus trees on Maud Street. Fifteen residents of St. Charles Street, Laurel Lane, Regent Place and Maud Street signed a petition stating that the street lighting could be improved without the mutilation or destruction of the boulevard trees.

Ald. F. G. Mulliner, chairman of the street lighting committee, explained that it was the intention of the committee to have the trees pruned, and in only one or two instances removed. He said that a letter, which was not signed, allegedly coming from a resident of Laurel Lane, had complained about people being molested on the dark street. He said investigation had shown that the street was very dark.

He said he would personally check with residents on the streets before asking that any of the trees be actually removed, but did not feel that the pruning operations should be delayed.

City Council approved the committee recommendation.

Need Act Amended For Veterans' Vote

Only manner in which hospitalized war veterans who are qualified to vote in civic elections can be assured of their franchise would require amendment to provincial legislation, M. F. Hunter, returning officer, told Monday's City Council meeting.

He explained that there is no veterans' hospital within Victoria, and most veterans will be in such a hospital rather than the civilian hospitals. It is not within the power of the city to set up polling divisions outside the city boundaries, and where a veteran was hospitalized at some distance from the city it would be almost impossible, he stressed.

Mr. Hunter's suggested solution was that any qualified veteran wishing to exercise his franchise should notify the superintendent of the hospital within a week of the election. Ballots would then be mailed to the hospital for each qualified veteran, and after the man had voted, he would make a declaration that he had marked his ballot, and either a doctor or the hospital superintendent would certify that he could not leave the hospital. The ballots would be kept in a sealed envelope until the polls close in the city and then counted with the others.

This still makes no provision for civilian patients in city hospitals, Mr. Hunter admitted.

Ald. H. M. Diggon suggested that the report be sent to the Canadian Legion for its comment.

Council Denies Team Non-Support

Acting Mayor Edward Williams, who is also chairman of the finance committee, told Monday's City Council meeting that publicity given the city's alleged non-support of the Victoria Girls' Drill team is incorrect.

He insisted that the city had made a large grant to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau with the stipulation that part of this go to the drill team. "We may not make a grant directly to the team, but indirectly we are doing a great deal to finance it," he said.

Ald. H. M. Diggon felt that the Chamber of Commerce should be asked to make a full explanation to the public on the matter and clear up misunderstanding.

B.C.E.R. Gives $1,500 To City For Pre-Franchise Expenses

The B.C. Electric Railway Company made a voluntary donation of $1,500 to help defray the pre-franchise expenses of the Greater Victoria Transportation Committee, Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman, revealed to Monday's City Council meeting.

The money was to help pay for publicity costs, W. C. Mainwaring, Vancouver Island vice-president for the company, said in a letter to the committee. He said the contribution was being made as evidence of the partnership which existed between the committee and the transportation company for the success of the venture.

He pointed out that if the electorate had approved the franchise at the December elections, the company would have paid a considerable revenue into the treasuries of the four municipalities already this year, and the $1,500 was a slight compensation.

The City Council decided to put the money into the expense account of the committee.

The council also approved asking an amendment to the Municipal Act which would allow the transportation committee to carry on its functions as the liaison between the company and the municipalities and work with the company in seeing that the franchise terms are upheld. In the meantime the present committee was authorized to carry on.

City Revenue Collections Up

Revenue collections in Victoria are up $63,743 for the first six months of 1947 over the same period in 1946, according to a statement given by D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller, to Monday's City Council meeting.

However, the percentage of the current tax levy collected at the half year mark had dropped from 43.09 per cent last year to 40.4 per cent this year. The cash receipts from this source were up from $812,886 to $858,306, but the levy is up $200,000.

In miscellaneous revenues the collections were up $18,324 during the six-month period. Only collections from the legal department, Macdonald Park, dog tax, water rates and bicycle licenses showed a drop.

Collection of arrears of taxes showed a $10,000 increase, being $58,589 in 1947 and $48,933 in 1946.

Sales of reverted property were down from $177,630 to $155,306; and collections from sales and rentals were down from $175,668 to $151,992.

Suggest Senior Citizen's Home At Esquimalt Council Meeting

Recommendation that Esquimalt reserve a lot from sale on Esquimalt Road between Fraser and Joffre Streets, with a view to considering the erection of a prospective home for senior citizens, was made by E. Fulcher, superintendent of works in his report to Esquimalt Council meeting, Monday night.

Mr. Fulcher's recommendation was met with enthusiasm by all council members and it was moved that the matter be referred to the Town-Planning Commission with the suggestion that it be gone into thoroughly.

"It would be a great thing for this community if we could have an old folks' home," Councillor A. C. Wurtele said.

REEVE ENDORSES IDEA

Reeve A. I. Thomas endorsed the idea and suggested that the Town-Planning Commission bring down facts and figures and something definite to work on. He appointed Councillor Wurtele chairman of a steering committee to get the commission to act on the suggestion.

"It is becoming imperative that some consideration be given to the housing of our elder citizens," Mr. Fulcher said in his report. "It is very difficult now to get the necessary boarding home care for those needing it and conditions are rapidly getting worse."

"As the provincial government is now providing a much greater share of the cost of erection and maintaining such a home, it now becomes feasible to entertain the idea. Reserving the lot would not affect the possible sale of the strip requested, as enough frontage would still be left."

J. A. Ellis Seeks By-law To Control Esquimalt Dogs

Dogs which run at large in Esquimalt annoying pedestrians, cyclists and motorists were the target for an attack by Councillor J. A. Ellis, at Esquimalt Council meeting Monday night, when he asked for introduction of a by-law at the next meeting for control of dogs.

"Dogs run at large and they are a perfect nuisance," Councillor Ellis told the meeting. "Pedestrians are held up and cyclists annoyed. The dogs should not be allowed to run at large."

G. H. Sedger, municipal solicitor, wrote council that it had power to enact a by-law to control dogs.

DOGS RUSH OUT

"We have a by-law covering control of barking dogs at night, but this is a case of dogs which rush out annoying pedestrians, cyclists and motorists," Councillor Ellis said. "Victoria has a by-law controlling dogs. They cannot run at large."

Council agreed to introduction of a by-law at the next meeting. Councillor G. V. Bishop, chairman of the parks and playgrounds committee, reported on the attendance and interest in the supervised playground at Bullen Park, being sponsored by the Esquimalt Parent-Teacher Association.

FINANCE CHAIRMAN

Reeve Thomas officially welcomed Councillor Alex Speirs to council, as the latter attended for the first time since his election. The reeve named Councillor Speirs chairman of the finance committee.

Pearkes On Braefoot

G. R. Pearkes, M.P. for Nanaimo, speaking at a veterans' meeting in St. Luke's Hall Monday, said there was little hope of getting a Royal Commission to investigate conditions on the Braefoot estate.

However, he urged veterans to continue lodging complaints and not sign any final contract until the problem had been settled. He also suggested that the tenants carry their case to the public accounts committee in the House of Commons.

Patients of the Victoria Veterans' Hospital were entertained July 18 by a concert party sponsored by the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion. H. A. Lees, second vice-president of the branch introduced the show, and William Morry acted as M.C. The artists were Art Strackman, Reg Stoffer and "The Strackmans," with W. S. Emmerton at the piano. Bill Hudson led the community singing, assisted by Bob Knight, zone representative of the Canadian Legion.

Civic Staff To Get Accrued Sick Pay On Retirement

An amendment to the Civic Service by-law, approved at Monday's City Council meeting, allows any employee who has accrued sick leave at the time of his retirement to obtain a gratuity from the city equal to 75 per cent of the sick leave to which he would have been entitled.

According to the new schedule an employee is entitled to 12 days' sick leave with pay during the period from the second to the fifth year of his employment. From the fifth to the 15th year he may have 18 working days' sick leave; and after the 15th year, 24 working days. Maximum sick leave allowed is 26 weeks.

At any time an employee has not taken all the sick leave to which he is entitled under the schedule, he is entitled to an accrual of half the sick leave for his future benefit. At no time, however, can it amount to more than the 26 weeks.

By-laws were also approved by City Council incorporating union contracts with the City Hall staff and employees of the street lighting department. Final reading of the by-laws will be given at the next council meeting.

Release Names Of English Teachers

Names of three British teachers who have been exchanged for three Victoria teachers for one year were disclosed at a meeting Monday of the Board of School Trustees of Greater Victoria.

They are Miss Gladys Chapman, Middlesex, England; Jean Brown Taylor, Falkirk, Scotland, and Miss Constance E. Watts, Luton, Bedfordshire.

These three teachers are taking the places of Helen P. Becker, Barbara C. Griffin and Grace Calliford, who have been granted permission by the board to go on exchange for the year commencing Sept. 1.

Improvements Made At Victoria College

Improvements costing more than $40,000 were made to Victoria College between Jan. 1 and June 30, Trustee M. P. Paine told the Greater Victoria School Board Monday.

He said alterations and additions to the chemistry building had been completed, while a 1,000 square foot addition to the biology building had reached the final stage. Work done also included installation of plumbing in chemistry and biology buildings.

Request Refused

The Greater Victoria Board of School Trustees, at a meeting Monday refused the request of St. Louis Mother's Club that dental services be provided pupils attending St. Louis College.

J. F. K. English, senior inspector of Municipal Schools, said the dentist and his assistant had already to much work in servicing public schools.

The School Board was not obliged to grant dental service to private schools, he said.

Jimmy Morrison Sparks Eagles To Baseball Win

Jimmy Morrison, versatile member of Gar Taylor's Eagles baseball nine, stole the show last night as he pitched and batted the birdmen to a 6 to 5 victory over Canadian Legion in a senior amateur fixture.

Replacing starter Bob Prior in the first of the fourth after the young righthander had given up five runs on eight hits in the first three innings, Morrison handcuffed the Vets with one hit the rest of the route.

In addition, Morrison picked up four hits in five trips off Legion's Bill Prior, started the game tying four-run uprising in the sixth inning and the winning rally in the last of the ninth.

Bill Prior was sailing along in fine style, boasting a 5 to 1 lead, when the Eagles broke loose for four runs on five hits in the sixth to tie the game. Then in the last half of the ninth with two men out, Morrison punched out a single. Prior walked Taylor, Patterson and Ronnie Benn in succession—to force in the winning run.

Three hits plus a pair of infield bobbles by Eagles gave Vets two runs in the first. Four singles in the second frame gave them their other three counters. Eagles' first tally came in the second on walks to Ronnie Benn and Doug Malcolm, a single by Sutherland and an outfield fly by "B" Benn.

Mickey Smith paced the Legion at the plate with three for five. Ron Benn drove in three of the Eagles runs and scored two. Sutherland knocked in the other tallies.

Tonight at 7 Pitzer & Nex will meet Eagles at Athletic Park.

Play Lacrosse At Olympic Games

TORONTO (CP)—Headquarters of the Canadian Lacrosse Association here have received a cable from the Olympic Games Committee in England announcing that Canada will play England in an Olympic lacrosse match at Wembley Stadium, Aug. 12, 1948, an official of the association said today.

The Canadian lacrosse championships, he said, will decide Canada's Olympic team.

City Police Win Twenty Medals At Revolver Meet

The team of revolver shots that sported Victoria City Police Revolver Club colors at the Pacific Northwest championship shoot in Seattle over last week-end returned to Victoria Monday bearing 20 medals as their share of the laurels in the two-day competition.

Last night elements of the same team left on the boat for Vancouver to take part in the B.C. championship shoot for two days on the ranges of the B.C. Rifle Association.

According to Detective John Lund, secretary of the local club, Sgt. Charlie Webb was No. 1 figure of the Victoria contingent in the Sound City meet, returning home with nine medals and the purses that went with them. Shooting as a sharpshooter, Sgt. Webb had four firsts and five seconds in individual events.

Also in the sharpshooter class, Constable Jack Mason fired his way to four medallions. He scored two firsts and two seconds in individual contests.

Dan McLellan, son of Chief of Police John A. McLellan, who attended with Commissioner Burgess, scored a first and a second, while Constable Nap Bouchard, marksman, registered like triumphs. Constable Reg Lanning took top honors in one individual event. The Webb, Mason, Bouchard and Lanning foursome scored two medals in team shoots, heading the non-resident entries in the squad contests.

Joe Gibault Winner In Rifle Shooting

VANCOUVER (CP)—Men from the 5th (B.C.) Coast Regiment Rifle Association cleaned up in the British Columbia rifle sports matches held Monday by taking the individual and team championships and placing four of their seven entrants in the first five positions in the aggregate.

Joe Gibault took the B.C. sporting rifle championship badge with a score of 391 out of a possible 400 points.

The Harkley and Haywood Challenge Cup, shot for by seven-man teams with high five score to count, was carried away by the 5th Regiment with a score of 1,926 points. The Ridgedale Rod and Gun Club with 1,907, and the C.N.R. Rifle Club with 1,886 placed second and third, respectively.

Bitter Race To Wire Prospect In National

Baseball fans are hereby warned to prepare for another feverish race to the wire in the National League, with Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals again assuming the leading roles.

Right now Brooklyn has a handsome four-game bulge over the second-place New York Giants—6½ games over fourth-place St. Louis—but the Cards aren't so far behind as it would seem at first glance. The schedule is heavily in their favor.

Of the four chief contenders, Phillies wallowed Pittsburgh Pirates 3 to 1 under the lights to stay out of the National League cellar. The Phils hopped on knuckleball specialist Roger Wolff for six runs in the first inning to make Dutch Leonard's 11th victory his easiest of the year.

In an exhibition game at Cooperstown, N.Y., Boston Braves edged the American League's New York Yankees 4 to 3 in 10 innings.

Pete Reiser of the Dodgers bruised his left shoulder diving for Babe Young's inside-the-park homer in the first game. Reiser is expected to return within four days.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

ON THE STRENGTH of their poor showing in the trial matches here last week it is not likely that western players will earn a single berth on Canadian Davis Cup tennis squad. The four-day tournament was a definite eastern triumph as the western representatives were able to win only three matches. It is possible the western stars may vindicate themselves in the Canadian championships at Vancouver this week but their only hope for a berth on the team would be a victory in the singles championship.

AFTER WATCHING THE players in action here last week the writer is of the opinion that Henry (Hank) Bennett, Victoria city singles champion, should have been given a chance to play in the trials, at least in the doubles. The number three and four positions on the western team, held by Art Jeffrey, Vancouver, and Don Hodges, Regina, respectively, were definitely weak. Bennett is a far better doubles player than either Jeffrey or Hodges and his presence would have given the team better balance. Before the western squad was selected there was some talk that Bennett might be given a berth and there was never any reason given for his being ignored.

THE LAST COUPLE of weeks a number of Victoria baseball fans have inquired if any action was ever taken by Bob Abel, president of the Western International League, over the conduct of certain members of its umpiring staff. For their information I can state that I wrote Abel requesting information on any disciplinary action he might take and to date he has not shown the courtesy to reply. From an outside source I have been informed that Abel intends to let matters rest until such time as he can talk to me personally. Further I am told he is quite put out over the panning I gave a certain Mr. Nenezhich and still considers "Little Caesar" one of the best umpires on his staff.

NEW YORK YANKEES managed to tie the Chicago White Sox record of 19 straight victories before they were stopped last week, but they couldn't even come close to one record established by the hitless wonders 41 years ago. During August, 1906, while the Sox were making their record, big Ed Walsh pitched six shutout games. Walsh blanked the Highlanders (who later became the Yankees), the Boston Red Sox and the Philadelphia Athletics two times each during that one month, giving up only 24 hits in all. That is believed to be a major league record although the books don't show it and just to prove it wasn't a fluke, big Ed repeated the feat two years later. In 1908 he collected six opponents during September.

Rochon Paces Seeded Players To Triumph

VANCOUVER (CP)—After rocking on their heels from the blow of a last-minute withdrawal of titleholders, the tournament committee of the Canadian tennis championships today plunged into the second day of play at the Vancouver Tennis Club, neatly juggling what remained of more than 150 Canadian and United States entries.

The committee breathed a sigh of relief when seven of eight seeded players in the featured men's singles event hopped into the third round.

But number one on the seeding list, P. Morey Lewis, Texarian, Ark., business man who won the Canadian singles crown in 1939 and again in Ottawa last year—the 29th time an American has won it in the 48 years the event has been played—wired last night that he would not, as previously expected, be able to defend his title.

What's more, is wife, Baba, who holds the Canadian women's singles crown and is co-holder of the women's doubles and, with her husband, the mixed doubles, regretted she also would not be able to attend.

"Business reasons" were the cause of the upset in seeding in which Mrs. Lewis was slated second in the women's singles, behind Mrs. Gracy Wheeler Kelleher of Santa Monica, Calif., former Wimbledon star who moved handily into the third round.

The men, however, monopolized the nine grass courts with effervescent Henri Rochon, the 24-year-old Montreal insurance salesman, heading the interest of the small gallery as he smashed through two opponents.

Rochon, seeded third, white-washed Andy Glosier of Vancouver 6-0, 6-0, and a fighting Berkeley, Calif., junior, Don Jacobus, 6-0, 8-6.

Athletics Open Series Tonight With Top Spokane

A bare game in front, the Spokane Indians host the fourth place Victoria Athletics in a three-game series starting tonight, while second and third place Bremerton and Salem meet in a trio of contests in the Oregon city.

Other series openers send Tacoma to Wenatchee and Vancouver to Yakima.

Spokane picked up a half game last night on the idle runners-up with a 7 to 5 10-inning decision over Wenatchee's cellar habits. The leaders pushed over three runs in the ninth inning to tie the game at 4-4, erased Wenatchee's lone 10th inning tally with another three-run burst featuring relief pitcher Jim Forsyth's two-run homer.

Tanforan Officials Fined And Jailed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Tanforan Company Ltd., was fined $90,000 in federal court Monday, and four men, officials and employers, also were fined and given jail sentences for unauthorized use of building materials on its horse racing track.

G. M. Standifer, president of Tanforan; Earl W. Heple, San Jose, Calif., building contractor, and William J. Levin, secretary of the company, each was fined $7,500 and sentenced to three months in jail by Judge Dal Lemmon.

A. W. Barnewitz, construction foreman at Tanforan, was fined $1,000 and given a one-month sentence.

Tanforan's racing plant at San Bruno was used during the war for a Japanese detention camp. The charges involved restoring the plant for racing after the navy returned it to private ownership.

Black Ball Ferries Will Not Be Tied Up With Appeal Granted

Legal counsel for Capt. Alexander M. Peabody, president of the Puget Sound Navigation Company, has announced that the Puget Sound ferry service will not end Aug. 3, as threatened earlier this month.

Capt. Peabody had threatened to tie up his vessels as a result of a Washington State Department of Transport order which limited the firm's fare increase to 10 per cent. The tie-up would not have affected Ms. Chinook which plies between here, Port Angeles and Seattle, but would have affected all ferries operating in American waters.

Washington County Superior Court granted the company a writ of review, thus permitting an appeal against the decrease in passenger rates. The company seeks a 30 per cent boost.

Parking Meters To Be Operating By Next Week In City

The first parking meters will be ready for operation next week it was announced today by Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the public works committee, as he rushed preparation of the enabling by-law.

Workmen have been busy on city streets for the past 10 days installing the standards, and the first 200 of the meter heads arrived in the city Saturday. Another 200 are en route, having been shipped from Montreal July 15, and a further 200 were being shipped today. The balance are to be shipped some time next week.

Supervising the installation is S. N. Hamilton, installation engineer for M-Co Meter Company from Montreal. He plans to remain in Victoria until the installation of the entire 800 is completed and he has made sure that each meter is working properly. He will train a maintenance man before he leaves.

There is a possibility that another 300 to 400 meters will be needed for Victoria very shortly. Ald. Hunter hinted, but no decision will be made at the present time.

Paper Features Island Event

Vancouver Island received Dominion-wide publicity in this week's issue of the Montreal Standard which features excellent photographs of the Dominion Day celebrations at Duncan.

Bill Halkett, photographer associated with the Victoria Daily Times, was engaged by the Standard which boast of a national circulation, to take the pictures. The pictures featured loggers' sports.

The Victoria Chamber of Commerce is seeking the whereabouts of Mayor Edward Wilson, Verdun, Que., who is said to be vacationing somewhere in this vicinity. The chamber has a telegram, marked important, for the mayor.

Luney Committed For Trial In Manslaughter Case

Robert Johnson Luney was committed for trial by Magistrate H. C. Hall at a special session of Esquimalt police court this morning at the conclusion of his preliminary hearing on a charge of manslaughter.

The charge against Luney arose following a collision between a car he was driving and an E. & N. freight train at the Lamson Street level crossing on the evening of May 10 in which John Raymond Gaffney, 33, war veteran, a passenger in the 1939 Ford convertible coupe, died in hospital the next day from injuries sustained.

Yesterday the court moved to Royal Jubilee Hospital to the bedside of Alastair Angus McLeod, 3710 Winston Crescent, third occupant of the car on the occasion of the crash, to hear his evidence. In reply to questions from G. H. Sedger, municipal prosecutor, McLeod, who will have to remain in hospital for several weeks yet owing to a badly broken right leg, said he was in the centre of the seat, Luney driving and Gaffney on the outside.

The injured passenger said he estimated the speed of the car at the time of the accident at about 30 miles per hour. In reply to questions from Gordon Cameron, defence counsel, McLeod said he had no objection to the speed of the car or the way it was being driven prior to the crash.

Milk Distribution Inquiry Nears End

An investigation of the accounts of Greater Victoria milk distributors to determine whether or not they are receiving a fair return under the present price structures set up by British Columbia's milk board is expected to be completed the end of July, it was learned here today.

The investigation is being made by C. H. G. Mann, chartered accountant with the firm of Ismay, Bolton, Dunn & Co. It is expected British Columbia's one-man milk board, E. C. Carr, will be in Victoria later this week to consult Mr. Mann on the inquiry.

Appointment of Mr. Mann followed an application of Greater Victoria milk producers, for a boost in producers' milk prices. Mr. Carr, following hearings here, granted an increase in the consumer price at the former level. But, at that time Mr. Carr announced an investigation would be made of distributors' accounts to determine whether or not a more efficient distribution set-up could be effected to keep consumer milk prices down in the Greater Victoria area.

R.C.M.P. Warn Of 'Mexican Swindle'

R.C.M.P. authorities have again issued a warning to citizens to beware of the revival of the "Mexican Prisoner Swindle" which is being conducted by a group of confidence men in Mexico.

Letters are sent by this group, allegedly written by Albert L. Martin, prisoner in a Mexican jail.

The letter states that Martin was a former banker in Vera Cruz who made some poor investments. About to be arrested, he is said to have converted all his assets into American currency, concealed the money in a trunk and sent it to a U.S. Customs House.

The letter requests financial aid to keep Martin's daughter while he is in jail.

The name and address of an intermediary in Mexico is given and, according to the statement, he will make all necessary arrangements for receiving the desired funds. In return, the beneficiary is to receive one-third of the fabulous sum, hidden in the trunk, when Martin is able to collect it.

Many prominent citizens in various parts of the Dominion have received such letters, police stated.

Building permits have been issued to D. M. Crosby to build a five-room house at 1770 Lee Avenue, $6,500, and to W. Kissinger to build a five-room house at 2567 Vancouver Street, $7,000.

Antique Furniture Hard To Get

War and blitzed homes in Britain are having their effect on the antique furniture business in Victoria, with antique dealers noting that very little furniture is coming out.

"We have a buyer in England and import directly from there, but with nothing to be bought in the way of modern furniture in England, people are buying the antiques," Mrs. H. B. Bartholomew of Bartholomew-Murdoch Antiques, said today. "We have not imported any from England since 1938."

"You can get antique furniture over there but it is so terribly expensive that by the time you get it out here, it is a crazy price," she said.

She pointed out that the amount of such furniture was naturally diminishing and referred also to the heavy American market for such goods.

End Brief Strike

On Southern Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An agreement ending the strike of locomotive engineers on the western lines of the Southern Pacific Railroad was announced today by L. B. McDonald, Southern Pacific vice-president in charge of operations.

He emerged early today from the conference room where negotiations had been in almost constant session since early Monday, and announced "they are signing the papers now."

The strike started at 6 p.m. Monday.
Oak Bay firemen for more than two hours this afternoon fought a bush fire on the Victoria Golf Club grounds.

There is no indication as to when the situation would improve, she said.

China, glassware and silver is coming through, she said, but added that a modern Sheffield plate carried by Bartholomew-Murdoch is sent out on a quota, as manufacturers have not reconverted to their peace-time production.

"Instead of a full order, we get one-quarter of it."

Harry Currie of The Treasure House, who was in England last winter, also spoke of the difficulties of getting antique furniture, but said he would be receiving a small shipment in August.

"There is not much offered for sale over there. You buy what you can find, not what you want," he said. "Owing to the war, people have been compelled to use old furniture. The price is terrific."

Victoria Scout Starts Long Trip To Paris Jamboree

A long journey to Europe began today for troop leader Macgregor Macintosh, son of Lt.-Col. and Mrs. M. Macintosh, 223 Denison Road, who left on the 2.20 p.m. train for Vancouver on his way to the World Scout Jamboree of Peace in France in August.

The 17-year-old youth, a troop leader for both the Oak Bay and Lion's Own Scout Troop, was chosen to represent the district at the jamboree. In all a contingent of 32 Canadian scouts are leaving for France.

The Canadian contingent will meet on July 27 at Miller's Lake, N.S., near Halifax, for five days' training before embarking on H.M.C.S. Warrior, sailing from Halifax Aug. 2 for Greenock, Scotland. From there the group will travel to London and will embark at Folkestone for Paris.

They will arrive at the jamboree site, situated at Molsheim, near Paris, Aug. 10. They will return to England on Aug. 19, with a contingent of 6,000 boys and are expected back in Canada early in September.

A 17-year-old air cadet, Alan Wallis, 1551 Gladstone Avenue, also leaves Victoria Wednesday on a good will tour of the United Kingdom. He is leaving for Vancouver by T.C.A. plane at 9.30 a.m. and will travel with a group of air cadets to Dorval, Montreal.

The contingent of 46 air cadets from all parts of Canada will be transported to England in an R.A.F. York aircraft. The group will visit England, Scotland and Wales and will be received in London by the King.

At a ceremony held at the City Hall today, Ald. E. Williams, acting mayor, presented to Wallis letters of good will to the Lord Provost of Glasgow and the Lord Mayor of Cardiff. The youth will deliver the letters while in the United Kingdom.

Present at the ceremony were R. H. B. Ker, a director of the Air Cadet League of Canada, and C. Routley, a district air cadet official.

Firemen To Get Wage Increases

After several weeks negotiation, members of the Firemen's Union and the fire wardens committee have agreed on wage adjustments which will incorporate the cost of living bonus in the basic wage scale, and provide other upward revisions until their present contract terminates the end of 1948, Ald. H. M. Diggon, committee chairman, said today.

In the case of first class firemen the increase may be as much as $10 a month, Ald. Diggon said, bringing the scale of pay to $192 per month. The other categories will be raised proportionately.

He anticipated that the new scale would be brought to the next City Council meeting for ratification.

Open Hearing Today On Laundry Strike

Submissions by counsel in the Nanaimo laundry dispute were heard by acting Labor Minister E. T. Kenney at the Legislative Buildings this afternoon as he sat to rule on seven specific points referred to the Minister of Labor by Nanaimo Magistrate L. Beevor-Potts.

In attendance were C.C.L. members from Vancouver, Victoria and Nanaimo, who answered the joint appeal of the B.C. Federation of Labor and the Victoria Labor Council.

Submission was made by R. McMaster, representing the defendants in the case, followed by F. S. Cunliffe, special prosecutor appointed by the provincial government to lay charges against the laundry workers' union, the workers and union officials under the recently legislated Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

Court hearings of the charges have been suspended and will not resume until Mr. Kenney hands down a ruling on the points referred to by the Nanaimo magistrate which deal mainly with the classification and qualifications of aspects of the agreement and the union which would allow prosecution.

Set $4,000 Bail In Luney Case
Bail was fixed by Judge H. H. Shandley today, in the sum of $4,000, comprising two sureties of $2,000 each, for Robert J. Luney, charged with manslaughter, arising from the death of John R. Gaffney on May 10, in an automobile-train collision in Esquimalt.

Playground Display At Bullen Park

A colorful demonstration of all playground activities will be given Friday night at Bullen Park in Esquimalt, as the first three weeks of supervised playgrounds, sponsored by the Esquimalt Parent-Teacher Association, draws to a close.

In addition to displays there will be community singing for children and their parents.

Friday night the park was the scene of a gala fancy dress parade in which 60 contestants participated. James Bryant, president of the Esquimalt P.T.A., was master of ceremonies.

Barbara Kerridge, Celia Kerridge and Gay Thompson took first prizes in the contest; Nanette Gibbs, second, and David Kerridge third. Special mention awards went to Pat Floyd, Thelma Fraser, Ian Folkes and Jimmy Glover.

Judges of the costumes were: Dr. Henrietta Anderson and Mesdames H. Bonner, K. Higgins and E. King. F. Jones gave a demonstration of harmonica music from the beginner stage to that of professional player. Tap dances were given by Marlene Booth, Valerie Knowles and Evelyn Holland. Folk dancing by the playground class followed.

Some 300 children were served with hot dogs during the evening. Playground supervisor Art McCoy led community singing.

Second Diphtheria Death Recorded

Victoria's second diphtheria death was recorded today as Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical health officer, announced that the eight-year-old girl who was hospitalized with the disease a week ago Saturday, died last night.

The child appeared to be progressing satisfactorily, Dr. Anderson said when she suffered a sudden relapse.

All known contacts of the child have been checked and all reported negative, he said. If any more cases were to occur from her source of infection at this time, they would have been reported by now.

Band Concert July 30 In Memorial Park

A concert will be given in Memorial Park, Esquimalt, at 7.30 on the evening of July 30 through the courtesy of the American Federation of Musicians, Victoria Branch, Reeve A. I. Thomas announced today.

35 Families Of Veterans Now In Gordon Head Camp

Thirty-five families of war veterans are already occupying the hutsments at the former Gordon Head army camp being reconverted to help out the acute housing shortage that exists in Greater Victoria, officials of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council reported today.

The council, which is undertaking this and has handled other reconversion projects to house the returned veterans' families, report workmen are doing a fast job of work in refitting the huts for civilian use and that the city building department is co-operating in the effort in commendable style.

First families were moved into the camp buildings on July 5 and others have been moving out to occupy as suites are made available.

While it is the ultimate aim to be able to house 225 families at the camp site, it is the belief of the citizens' group that it will take until September to have things shipshape for the next 40 families on the list.

The remainder will be moved in as quickly as possible.

Scurrah To Head Merchants' Section

Percy Scurrah was unanimously elected chairman of the retail merchants' section of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at the annual meeting held this morning. Mr. Scurrah succeeds George MacDonald as head of the group. Ernie Holland was re-elected vice-chairman.

The opinion was expressed by some merchants that the recently-opened mail order office of Sears Roebuck Company would take away trade from local merchants. It was pointed out, however, that import duties and taxes gave protection to city dealers.

Chano Oaklands School Boundaries

Because of over-crowding at Oaklands School it will be necessary to change the school boundary line between the Oaklands district and the new Doncaster Heights school district, the Greater Victoria School Board decided at its meeting Monday evening on recommendation of J. F. K. English, senior municipal inspector of schools.

The new school will be open when classes start in September and will be well able to accommodate the extra children the board was told.

The new boundary line between the two districts will be from Cook Street to Cedar Hill Road, north along Cedar Hill Road to Gosworth Road; south along Gosworth Road to Burdon Road; east along Burdon Road to Shakespear Street; south along Shakespear Street to Hillside Avenue; east along Hillside Avenue and Lansdowne to Foul Bay Road.

All children on the north side of this line will go to the new school at Doncaster Heights, and all children south of the line will continue at Oaklands School.

Thieves Raid Clotheslines

The days of plenty on the merchandise shelves at reasonable prices have not arrived yet, or so it would appear from the clothesline robberies in the city during the last few days. From the clothesline of Miss E. B. Buckmaster, 1222 Rudin Street, overnight seven pair of panties and a set of bras were stolen. A recent raid on the clothesline of Mrs. H. D. Ramsay, 1921 Quamichan Street, netted thieves a green dress, a blue shirt, a white slip and a blue bathing suit.

Trade Official To Visit Here

Joseph MacLeod-Boyer, Canadian government trade commissioner, who has been in charge of the Chicago office since 1944 and has now been posted to Cairo, Egypt, will be in Victoria, July 28, it was reported today by the office of the trade commissioner at the Legislative Buildings here.

Mr. Boyer will reach Victoria in the course of a tour of Canada being made prior to his departure for his new post. Manufacturers, importers and exporters here may make arrangements to interview Mr. Boyer by phoning the office of the trade commissioner, E 1111, local 479.

Mr. Boyer is a graduate of Acadia University and a veteran of the last two world wars.

B.C. Polio Cases Reach Total Of 66

The total number of cases of poliomyelitis in B.C. since the beginning of the year now stands at 66, the B.C. Department of Health reported here today.

The report showed an increase of 10 cases over the week-end up to Monday night. Some of them were in Vancouver, where the total has risen from 43 at the beginning of the week-end to 50 now.

No new cases were reported to the department today.

Lack Of Housing May Bring Shortage Of Teachers Here

Unless sufficient boarding places and housing accommodation can be found, Greater Victoria schools may be faced with a teacher shortage when school reopens in September, J. F. K. English, senior municipal inspector of schools, said today.

He said teachers are having difficulty in finding suitable living quarters, particularly married teachers who want a small suite or house.

Some teachers had refused to accept appointments here, he added and others have hinted that unless they can find a place to board shortly they will accept other appointments in areas where living accommodation is easier to find.
